Don't Be in a Hurry.
Napoleon Waited Seven Years.
You Can Wait Six.
From Graveyard Lands.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

There are many young men on earth who fail because they lack ambition and determination to advance. There are many more whose trouble is hasty ambition. They fail to realize their present chances in their hurried reaching out for something better. You may see in any club, poolroom or other resort for wasting times, crowds of young men smoking and deploring their lack of success.

"I've been working three years at the same job and the same salary," one will say, "and I don't see what chance I have for getting ahead."

The young man who talks in this way does not realize that success depends on developing the qualities which are in him. He can develop them if he will, no matter what his place in the world. Once he is ready to do good work, once he is developed, the work will find him out.

When Napoleon Bonaparte was resting from his labors at St. Helena, he used to tell this story:

"One day on parade a young lieutenant stepped out of the ranks, much excited, to appeal to me personally. He said to me that he had been a lieutenant for five years and had not been able to advance in rank. I said to him, 'Calm yourself, I was seven years a lieutenant, and yet you see that a man may push himself forward, for all that.'"

Napoleon, when he preached this lesson to the young, dissatisfied officer, was a self-made emperor of the French and of a great many other nations. He had come to Paris a thin, hollow-cheeked, under-sized boy from the conquered and despised island of Corsica. He stuck in the humble grade of lieutenant for several years. When the time came he blossomed out.

When he was lieutenant, he was developing himself. He studied and mastered the art of war. He wrote the history of Corsica, and no one would publish it. He wrote a drama, which was never acted. He wrote a prize essay for the Academy of Lyons, and did not win the prize. On the contrary, his effort was condemned as incoherent and poor in style. These were a few failures; enough to make an ordinary boy throw up his hands and say: "I've done all I can do; now let the world look out for me."

Just when he become hopeful about the future, when he knew that he had real military genius, he was dismissed from the army, and his career seemed to be ended. He made the thin soup on which he and his brother lived. He could afford to change his shirt only once a week. He said:

"I breakfasted off dry bread, but I bolted the door on my poverty."

He kept at it, and all the time, successful or otherwise, he was developing himself. He developed into an emperor. Young men will please notice that fact, and the fact that Napoleon worked and tried under adversity and monotony instead of grumbling.

The newspaper reporter who does not get ahead very fast, the author whose manuscripts are treated as were Napoleon's first efforts, may study with considerable profit a young American writer named Richard Harding David. That young man had been a reporter in Philadelphia for seven years, when he went to work on a New York evening newspaper at a small salary. He had written and was writing some of his best stories, but could not get ahead, apparently. Nevertheless, he kept on trying, and developed himself. When other young men were busy talking about themselves or deploring their lot, Davis was writing and grinding away out of working hours at the effort to get out and realize what was in him. He succeeded.

A few cases have been mentioned for young men to think over. They are selected at random. No young man need worry about himself so long as he can honestly say that he is doing his best. Being in the same place at the same salary for seven years can do you no harm if you are developing during that times what is in you. But you may well worry if you are drifting aimlessly, pitying yourself, making no effort. If your mind stays in the same place for years, that is dangerous. But don't worry about anything else.

Some engineering authority says that Great Britain must control Egypt because he who controls Egypt controls the Suez canal, which is "the jugular vein of the British empire."

There are other reasons why the British control Egypt. With the British gone, Egypt would drift back to dust and decay. Even for the recent short period of home-made Egyptian rule, the streets of Cairo were dirty, public work was neglected, the hotels deteriorated. If the Egyptians and the inhabitants of India had the energy, the governing genius of the Japanese there would be no need of Englishmen to run those countries.

But left to the Egyptians, the Suez canal would soon cave in and the desert sands would fill it up as they have filled and buried other great works of the old days.

It is very sad to interfere with "sacred liberty." But you can't allow the living world to be ruled from the graveyard. And Egypt, like India, is one of the graveyards of antiquity—a land of dead ideas, of people without modern constructive power.

THOMAS MARSHALL, 71, VICE-PRESIDENT WITH WOODROW WILSON, DIES

Indiana's Son, Believed to be on Way to Recovery From Severe Cold Contracted During Trip to Capital, Succumbs While Sitting up in Bed Reading Bible in Washington Hotel.

PRACTICED LAW FOR MANY YEARS; POWER IN DEMOCRATIC POLITICS

Served as Governor of Native State From 1909 to 1913, Was Nominated for Second Place on Party's National Ticket at Baltimore Convention in 1912 and Was Lecturer.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Thomas Riley Marshall, of Indiana, former vice president of the United States, died here this morning.

Marshall had been ill at a hotel here with a severe cold contracted during a trip to the capital from his home in Indianapolis. His condition had improved during the last few days, however, and physicians regarded him as on the way to recovery.

The end came at 9:40 A. M. while the former vice president was sitting up in bed reading his Bible.

After delivering a number of addresses in Indiana, Marshall came here a week ago today. He suffered a heart attack upon his arrival and has been in bed since.

His nurse was in the room when he suddenly fell forward—dead. Mrs. Marshall was in an adjoining room.

"PLAIN AMERICAN CITIZEN" DEAD

Thomas H. Marshall

Burial in Marion, Ind.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed at noon today, except that Marshall would be buried in the Odd Fellows' cemetery at Marion, Ind., where his father, mother and adopted son are now buried. Funeral services probably will be held both here and in Marion.

Marshall was 71 years old last March. He was born in North Manchester, Ind., and was educated at Wabash college.

After practicing law at Columbia City, Ind., for many years, Marshall became a power in the Democratic party in his native state and served as governor from 1909 to 1913.

The Democratic convention at Baltimore in 1912 which nominated Woodrow Wilson for president, chose Marshall for second place on the ticket. He served as vice president during the administration of Woodrow Wilson and has since been engaged in lecturing in various parts of the country ,while taking no active part in national politics.

Democratic and Unconventional.

Mr. Marshall prided himself on the fact that he had always been "just a plain, every-day, average American citizen," democratic and unconventional, and to his neighbors in Columbia city was always affectionately referred to as "Tom."

He married on October 2, 1895, Miss Lois I. Kimsey, of Angola, Ind. Because of his deep love for his mother he did not marry until she died. The same devotion always existed between him and Mrs. Marshall, who always accompanied him on campaign or lecture trips. With the exception of never missing an opportunity to see a baseball game, Mr. Marshall was not an enthusiast over outdoor sports.

Possessed with a wealth of human sympathy for his fellowmen, Mr. Marshall had a quaint and subtle sense of humor, which the pall of senatorial dignity failed to dampen. Many times the humor was expressed at the expense of some senator. Mr. Marshall was a good story-teller and nothing

HOMAGE PAID HERO DEAD BY SURVIVORS OF THREE WARS

Memorial Day Programs Featured in Morning and Afternoon.

PARADE IS HELD

State Senator Roberts, Youngstown, Makes Address.

Two separate services were held during the day, both at Riverview cemetery. Private Eddy post No. 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars, honored their deceased members at services during the forenoon, while a joint program under auspices of the G. A. R., Sons of Veterans and the American Legion was held in the afternoon.

Fallen heroes of the Civil war, the Spanish-American war and the World war received homage. From the grave of each veteran fluttered a small American flag, while deposited there was a wreath of evergreen.

Tribute Paid War Martyrs.

The afternoon service at the cemetery was preceded by a parade, headed by surviving members of the G. A. R. Music was furnished by the Salvation Army band. The marchers included representatives of the Sons of Veterans, the American Legion and World War veterans. A troop of Boy Scouts, led by Scoutmaster Edgar Pittenger, Girls Scouts and other marchers took part in the procession, which formed on East Fourth street and passed over sections of Broadway, Sixth street, Fifth street. The parade disbanded at the Horn Switch, marchers going to the cemetery in automobiles and street cars.

The service at the cemetery was in charge of William S. Faulks, commander of East Liverpool Post No. 4 American Legion. The general singing was led by Robert M. Baur. Ritualistic ceremonies were conducted by the G. A. R. and the American Legion.

The speaker was Attorney J. Eugene Roberts, Youngstown, state senator from the 23rd Ohio district, and a World War veteran. Hepaid a glowing tribute to the defenders of the Union in the Civil war, those who made the supreme sacrifice in the Spanish-American war and the fallen heroes in the World war. The service was concluded with three volleys of shots by the American Legion firing squad and the blowing of taps by buglers.

Ritualistic Ceremonies.

So-called "Obscene Magazines" Removed Fro mShelves Here

Upon instructions from Chief of Police McDermott, locals news stands have removed approximately 22 magazines, listed by Attorney General Crabbe as "obscene and lascivious in character" from the shelvbes.

The list of magazines, so classified by the attorney general, was transmitted to Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes, who in turn communicated the word to the police chief. No objections were voiced by any of the dealers, it is declared.

Many of the magazines, it is claimed, were sent to Chester and Newell news dealers, who reported heavy sales for the publications banned in Ohio. The campaign against the so-called "obscene magazines" was launched several weeks ago by the W. C. T. U.

U. S. Warships Stay At Shanghai as 15 Die in Disorders

SHANGHAI, June 1.—With a death toll of 15 already reported and with further disturbances imminent today as the result of student riots in Shanghai, United States Consul General Cunningham, of this city, has requested Admiral Thomas Washington, of the United States Asiatic fleet, that three American destroyers and one gunboat now in the harbor here be detained to aid in preserving order in the international settlement. The four warships were under orders to sail immediately for Chefoo. All food markets announced they would close tomorrow.

COUPE STOLEN ON BROADWAY

Police are searching for a 1924 model Chevrolet coupe, belonging to Clyde Cunningham, East End, which was stolen while parked near the D. E. McNicol pottery, Broadway, Friday evening. The car carried License No. 241-234.

Driver In Fatal Auto Accident Held On Manslaughter Charge

Charles Van Meter Pleads Not Guilty in Death of Harold Purdy —Unable to Furnish $5,000 Bond.

Charles Van Meter, Monaca street, laborer for the Babcock-Wilcox company, was held for the grand jury under $5,000 bail when he was arraigned before Mayor Charles Brown, Friday evening, on a charge of manslaughter in the death of Harold Purdy, 24, a fellow employe who was struck by Van Meter's automobile on Harvey avenue Thursday night.

Van Meter entered a plea of not guilty. He was not represented at the hearing by counsel, but since then has retained Attorney Ben L. Bennett. Van Meter, unable to furnish bond, was taken to the county jail at Lisbon Saturday, pending grand jury action.

Coroner J. M. Van Fossan, East Palestine, who conducted an inquest over the body at the C. N. Miller funeral home Friday afternoon, returned a verdict that Purdy's death had been caused by a fractured skull, caused when he was "hit by an automobile."

Funeral services for Purdy were conducted in the late home in Harvey avenue at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Burial was made in Riverview cemetery.

OREGON SCHOOL LAW DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL BY U. S. COURT

Supreme Tribunal Rules Against Enactment Requiring Children to Attend Public Schools Exclusively.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The Oregon school law, requiring all children between 8 and 16 years of age to attend public schools exclusively, was declared unconstitutional today by the United States supreme court.

Validity of the law was attacked by the Society of Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary, a Catholic education corporation, and by Hill Military academy, a non-sectarian educational institution. Lower federal courts held the state law void because it was unconstitutional. An appeal was taken by the state, which the supreme court overruled in its desision.

The decision of the court was delivered by Justice McReynolds.

"The inevitable, practical result of enforcement of the law will destroy these private schools," said the justice. "These schools have long been recognized as filling a lawful need and purpose."

BETTER MAILING WEEK CAMPAIGN OPENS; ELIMINATE 'NIXIES,' IS PLEA

Postmaster McClure Urges Co-operation in Movement to Eliminate "Dead Letter" Office.

A campaign to eliminate the "dead letter" office or at least cut the cost of its operation was launched today by Postmaster J. E. McClure in observance of "Better Mailing Week."

According to Postmaster General Harry S. New, approximately $2,000,000 is spent each year in caring for mail which untimately is consigned to the "dead letter' office.

It is pointed out that approximately 21,000,000 letters went to the "dead letter" office last year; 803,000 parcels did likewise; that 100,000 letters go into the mails each year on perfectly blank envelopes, containing neither the name and address of the person for whom it is intended nor the return address of the writer; that $55,000 in cash is removed each year from mis-directed envelopes; that $12,000 in checks, drafts and money orders never reach their intended owners.

Uncle Sam collects $92,000 annually in postage for the return of mail from the "dead letter" office, it is claimed, and it costs in round figures about $1,740,000 annually to ascertain the addresses on misdirected mail.

The purpose of "Better Mailing Week' is to educate the public to use more care in addressing mail, thereby eliminating all costs in connection with the operation of the "dead letter' office.

"Eliminate Nixies" is the slogan of the postal workers in the "Better Mailing" campaign. If each piece of mail carries a return address and if each parcel is wrapped in stout paper and strong cord, thousands and perhaps millions of dollars will be saved each year.

War Secretary Week's Condition Is "Not so Good"

BOSTON, June 1.—Secretary of War John W. Week's condition was reported "not so good" by physicians today. From Phillips House, Massachusetts General hospital, where the secretary underwent an operation, came the following bulletin:

"Secretary Week's general condition is not so good. He had a restless night. Pulse 90; temperature normal".

Yesterday his condition was given as "not entire satisfactory" due to an attack of hiccoughs.

Author of Tammany Song, "Sidewalks Of New York," Dead

NEW YORK, June 1.—Charles B. Lawlor, author of "The Sidewalks of New York," is dead. Death was due to heart disease. He will be buried tomorrow.

Mr. Lawlor was blind and had been in impoverished circumstances for years.

Grandson of Charles Knowles Victim of Accident.

Robert, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Koehn, of Bay City, Mich., former residents here, was accidentally drowned Friday afternoon, according to a massage received by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Knowles, Cadmus street. No details of the tragedy were contained in the message.

Mrs. Koehn was formerly Miss Mildred Knowles. The father was formerly manager of the Liberal Clothing store here, but recently has been in charge of a similar establishment in Bay City. The victim was the only child of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Knowles, their daughter, Mrs. John W. Green, of Blakely street, and two sons, Kenneth and Robert, left Saturday morning for Bay City to attend the funeral, which was held this afternoon. Burial was made in Bay City.

PLOT TO KIDNAP SCREEN STARS

WHILE NOT ENTHUSIASTIC, MOST OF 48 GOVERNORS WILL CO-OPERATE IN JULY 4 'DEFENSE DAY' PLAN

By GEORGE R. HOLMES.

Copyright, 1925, by I. N. S.

NEW YORK, June 1. — While not militantly enthusiastic over the idea, most of the governors of the 48 states are willing to co-operate with President Coolidge and the war department in the suggested plan to make July 4 annual "defense day" from a national standpoint.

This was disclosed today in a nation-wide poll of gubernatorial sentiment taken by the International News Service.

Many of the governors feel that a day should be set apart each year on which the nation should take stock of its defense situation, when state troops should be mobilized for inspection and survey, and the thoughts of the people generally devoted to the preparedness that may never be necessary but which must always be observed.

Suggest Another Date.

But not all of them by any means believe that this day should be Armistice Day, as originally proposed by the general staff, nor do they whole-heartedly approve of President Coolidge's alternative suggestion of July 4. Not a few of the state executives, while declaring they would "go along" with the federal government. If July 4 is selected, expressed the view that "a better day could be selected" than either Armistice day or the Fourth.

Gov. Angus W. McLean (D) of North Carolina, summed up the views of many of his colleagues in other states when he said: "I heartily approve of President Coolidge's plan to designate a national defense day. I believe in exerting every effort to abolish war and settle international disputes by peaceful means. But until effective measures for this purpose are set up I believe plans for our national defense should not be overlooked.

"It is my intention to authorize mobilization of the national guard on the Gourth of July is requested, though I believe the designiaton of some other day would enable us to effect more complete mobilization.

Gov. Donahey's View.

In a similar vein was the view expressed by Gov. A. V. Donahey (D) of Ohio, who said:

"If July 4 is finally designated by the chief executive as Defense day, I shall issue such proclamation as is desired by the president. It is my belief, however, that a day better suited than the Fourth of July for this test could be chosen.

"The great national significance of this date, in my belief, will submerge the interest in Defense Day."

Still another governor of the same mind is Gov. George W. P. Hunt, of Arizona.

"I see no objection to having a national Defense Day," said Gov. Hunt. "I do not, however, think that such holidays as Armistice Day and Fourth of July should be utilized for this purpose. I feel both these days should be devoted to the couse of peace rather than consideration of further military activities. However, if the president fixes upon the Fourth I feel we should co-operate—at the same time expressing the hope that it will not become an annual occurrence.

"It is impracticable to mobilize our state troops for July 4," he said. "I am inclined to think an annual Defense day is too often. I feel that every two, or even four, years is sufficient for a test, and not caluculated to emphasize and foster a too militaristic spirit."

Most of the governors contented themselves with merely saying they would co-operate with the federal government, without stating their opinions as to the advisability of the move contemplated in Washington.

The same devotion always existed between him and Mrs. Marshall, who always accompanied him on campaign or lecture trips. With the exception of never missing an opportunity to see a baseball game, Mr. Marshall was not an enthusiast over outdoor sports.

Possessed with a wealth of human sympathy for his fellowmen, Mr. Marshall had a quaint and subtle sense of humor, which the pall of senatorial dignity failed to dampen. Many times the humor was expressed at the expense of some senator. Mr. Marshall was a good story-teller and nothing

Memorial Day Programs Featured in Morning and Afternoon.

PARADE IS HELD

State Senator Roberts, Youngstown, Makes Address.

Two separate services were held during the day, both at Riverview cemetery. Private Eddy post No. 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars, honored their deceased members at services during the forenoon, while a joint program under auspices of the G. A. R., Sons of Veterans and the American Legion was held in the afternoon.

Fallen heroes of the Civil war, the Spanish-American war and the World war received homage. From the grave of each veteran fluttered a small American flag, while deposited there was a wreath of evergreen.

Tribute Paid War Martyrs.

The afternoon service at the cemetery was preceded by a parade, headed by surviving members of the G. A. R. Music was furnished by the Salvation Army band. The marchers included representatives of the Sons of Veterans, the American Legion and World War veterans. A troop of Boy Scouts, led by Scoutmaster Edgar Pittenger, Girls Scouts and other marchers took part in the procession, which formed on East Fourth street and passed over sections of Broadway, Sixth street, Fifth street. The parade disbanded at the Horn Switch, marchers going to the cemetery in automobiles and street cars.

The service at the cemetery was in charge of William S. Faulks, commander of East Liverpool Post No. 4 American Legion. The general singing was led by Robert M. Baur. Ritualistic ceremonies were conducted by the G. A. R. and the American Legion.

The speaker was Attorney J. Eugene Roberts, Youngstown, state senator from the 23rd Ohio district, and a World War veteran. Hepaid a glowing tribute to the defenders of the Union in the Civil war, those who made the supreme sacrifice in the Spanish-American war and the fallen heroes in the World war. The service was concluded with three volleys of shots by the American Legion firing squad and the blowing of taps by buglers.

Ritualistic Ceremonies.

Upon instructions from Chief of Police McDermott, locals news stands have removed approximately 22 magazines, listed by Attorney General Crabbe as "obscene and lascivious in character" from the shelvbes.

The list of magazines, so classified by the attorney general, was transmitted to Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes, who in turn communicated the word to the police chief. No objections were voiced by any of the dealers, it is declared.

Many of the magazines, it is claimed, were sent to Chester and Newell news dealers, who reported heavy sales for the publications banned in Ohio. The campaign against the so-called "obscene magazines" was launched several weeks ago by the W. C. T. U.

Driver In Fatal Auto Accident Held On Manslaughter Charge

Charles Van Meter Pleads Not Guilty in Death of Harold Purdy —Unable to Furnish $5,000 Bond.

Charles Van Meter, Monaca street, laborer for the Babcock-Wilcox company, was held for the grand jury under $5,000 bail when he was arraigned before Mayor Charles Brown, Friday evening, on a charge of manslaughter in the death of Harold Purdy, 24, a fellow employe who was struck by Van Meter's automobile on Harvey avenue Thursday night.

Van Meter entered a plea of not guilty. He was not represented at the hearing by counsel, but since then has retained Attorney Ben L. Bennett. Van Meter, unable to furnish bond, was taken to the county jail at Lisbon Saturday, pending grand jury action.

Coroner J. M. Van Fossan, East Palestine, who conducted an inquest over the body at the C. N. Miller funeral home Friday afternoon, returned a verdict that Purdy's death had been caused by a fractured skull, caused when he was "hit by an automobile."

Funeral services for Purdy were conducted in the late home in Harvey avenue at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Burial was made in Riverview cemetery.

OREGON SCHOOL LAW DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL BY U. S. COURT

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The Oregon school law, requiring all children between 8 and 16 years of age to attend public schools exclusively, was declared unconstitutional today by the United States supreme court.

Validity of the law was attacked by the Society of Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary, a Catholic education corporation, and by Hill Military academy, a non-sectarian educational institution. Lower federal courts held the state law void because it was unconstitutional. An appeal was taken by the state, which the supreme court overruled in its desision.

The decision of the court was delivered by Justice McReynolds.

"The inevitable, practical result of enforcement of the law will destroy these private schools," said the justice. "These schools have long been recognized as filling a lawful need and purpose."

BETTER MAILING WEEK CAMPAIGN OPENS; ELIMINATE 'NIXIES,' IS PLEA

Postmaster McClure Urges Co-operation in Movement to Eliminate "Dead Letter" Office.

A campaign to eliminate the "dead letter" office or at least cut the cost of its operation was launched today by Postmaster J. E. McClure in observance of "Better Mailing Week."

According to Postmaster General Harry S. New, approximately $2,000,000 is spent each year in caring for mail which untimately is consigned to the "dead letter' office.

It is pointed out that approximately 21,000,000 letters went to the "dead letter" office last year; 803,000 parcels did likewise; that 100,000 letters go into the mails each year on perfectly blank envelopes, containing neither the name and address of the person for whom it is intended nor the return address of the writer; that $55,000 in cash is removed each year from mis-directed envelopes; that $12,000 in checks, drafts and money orders never reach their intended owners.

Uncle Sam collects $92,000 annually in postage for the return of mail from the "dead letter" office, it is claimed, and it costs in round figures about $1,740,000 annually to ascertain the addresses on misdirected mail.

The purpose of "Better Mailing Week' is to educate the public to use more care in addressing mail, thereby eliminating all costs in connection with the operation of the "dead letter' office.

"Eliminate Nixies" is the slogan of the postal workers in the "Better Mailing" campaign. If each piece of mail carries a return address and if each parcel is wrapped in stout paper and strong cord, thousands and perhaps millions of dollars will be saved each year.

War Secretary Week's Condition Is "Not so Good"

BOSTON, June 1.—Secretary of War John W. Week's condition was reported "not so good" by physicians today. From Phillips House, Massachusetts General hospital, where the secretary underwent an operation, came the following bulletin:

"Secretary Week's general condition is not so good. He had a restless night. Pulse 90; temperature normal".

Yesterday his condition was given as "not entire satisfactory" due to an attack of hiccoughs.

WHILE NOT ENTHUSIASTIC, MOST OF 48 GOVERNORS WILL CO-OPERATE IN JULY 4 'DEFENSE DAY' PLAN

By GEORGE R. HOLMES.

Copyright, 1925, by I. N. S.

NEW YORK, June 1. — While not militantly enthusiastic over the idea, most of the governors of the 48 states are willing to co-operate with President Coolidge and the war department in the suggested plan to make July 4 annual "defense day" from a national standpoint.

This was disclosed today in a nation-wide poll of gubernatorial sentiment taken by the International News Service.

Many of the governors feel that a day should be set apart each year on which the nation should take stock of its defense situation, when state troops should be mobilized for inspection and survey, and the thoughts of the people generally devoted to the preparedness that may never be necessary but which must always be observed.

Suggest Another Date.

But not all of them by any means believe that this day should be Armistice Day, as originally proposed by the general staff, nor do they whole-heartedly approve of President Coolidge's alternative suggestion of July 4. Not a few of the state executives, while declaring they would "go along" with the federal government. If July 4 is selected, expressed the view that "a better day could be selected" than either Armistice day or the Fourth.

Gov. Angus W. McLean (D) of North Carolina, summed up the views of many of his colleagues in other states when he said: "I heartily approve of President Coolidge's plan to designate a national defense day. I believe in exerting every effort to abolish war and settle international disputes by peaceful means. But until effective measures for this purpose are set up I believe plans for our national defense should not be overlooked.

"It is my intention to authorize mobilization of the national guard on the Gourth of July is requested, though I believe the designiaton of some other day would enable us to effect more complete mobilization.

Gov. Donahey's View.

In a similar vein was the view expressed by Gov. A. V. Donahey (D) of Ohio, who said:

"If July 4 is finally designated by the chief executive as Defense day, I shall issue such proclamation as is desired by the president. It is my belief, however, that a day better suited than the Fourth of July for this test could be chosen.

"The great national significance of this date, in my belief, will submerge the interest in Defense Day."

"I see no objection to having a national Defense Day," said Gov. Hunt. "I do not, however, think that such holidays as Armistice Day and Fourth of July should be utilized for this purpose. I feel both these days should be devoted to the couse of peace rather than consideration of further military activities. However, if the president fixes upon the Fourth I feel we should co-operate—at the same time expressing the hope that it will not become an annual occurrence.

"It is impracticable to mobilize our state troops for July 4," he said. "I am inclined to think an annual Defense day is too often. I feel that every two, or even four, years is sufficient for a test, and not caluculated to emphasize and foster a too militaristic spirit."

Most of the governors contented themselves with merely saying they would co-operate with the federal government, without stating their opinions as to the advisability of the move contemplated in Washington.

13 MOTORISTS TO FACE MAYOR

Traffic Law Offenders Are Arrested Here Over Week-end.

With the exception of traffic violations the local police had a quiet Memorial Day and week-end. Thirteen persons were arrested charged with violation of traffic rules and regulations, while two others were apprehended on charges of drunkenness.

J. E. Bair, Sherwood, paid a fine of $10 and costs, totalling to $15.80, when he was arraigned before the mayor charged with fast and reckless driving. Bair is alleged to have driven down Bradshaw avenue Saturday afternoon, at a speed estimated at 45 miles an hour. He was arrested by Chief McDermott.

T. N. Huston, Negley, was arrested by Patrolman McFarland on Bank street, Saturday evening, charged with passing a street car while it was discharging passengers. He posted bond for his appearance.

C. B. Yonz was arrested by Patrolman James Haley on a fast and reckless driving charge. He, too, posted bond for his appearance.

E. J. Guillarmod, construction foreman, was arrested on the River road by Captain Conley last night, after his machine is alleged to have crashed into another car. He was charged with driving a car while intoxicated. No one was injured in the crash although wrecking car equipment was required to separate the two automobiles figuring in the crash.

Charges have also been filed against the holders of the following licenses whose cars were "tagged" by the police in their week-end activities: 242-013, T-112-748; P-C 034; 242-173; 242-063; T-112-419; 241-675.

Women Must Give Truthful Age in New York Census

NEW YORK, June 1.—Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, secretary of state, has received numerous letters from women asking whether, in the state census which is to be taken commencing today, their truthful age must be given.

Mrs. Knapp said today that "truthful answers are expected to all questions."

FAVOR LONDON FOR DEBT MEET

Sidetrack Washington and Paris, is Unofficial Hint.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—A movement has been launched here in unofficial circles close to the administrations in London, instead of either in Paris of Washington.

There was no indication today that this suggestion had come directly from President Coolidge or any member of his cabinet, and for the present they permitted no deviation from the understanding that it was the desire of the administration to have all debt-funding negotiations take place in the United States. In the meantime, however, they are awaiting with interest the reaction in Europe to the unofficial suggestion that the debt conference be held on neutral territory.

Officials pointed out that ample after formal notification had been received from France that she was ready to open debt negotiations. If the French government at that time expressed an unwillingness to send a debt commission to Washington and the United States stood firm against sending an American commission to Paris, the time would then be ripe to extend a formal invitation to both the American and French governments to have their debt negotiations in the British capital.

Strangler Sought In Hunt for Slayer Of Brooklyn Girl

NEW YORK, June 1.—An "habitual strangler" was being sought today in the man hunt for the brutal murderer of Florence Kane, whose mangled body was found in a vacant lot near her Brooklyn home early last Friday morning.

HOPES OF 'WETS' ARE HARD HIT

Prohibition Repeal Unlikely—May Get 2.75 Beer.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—A death blow to the hopes of "wets" that the national prohibition law may be repealed, if the Coolidge administration's rum war fails, was sounded King, Democrat, of Utah, who led here today by Senator William H. of the eighteenth amendment.

congressional opposition to enactment

King declared there can be no real change in the dry statute, even though the government finally confesses its inability to properly enforce the law. To restore old-fashioned beer and other intoxicating liquors, he said, ment with its ratification by 36 states, would require a constitutional amendadded, is hopeless during the present generation.

The only possible modification, King asserted, might come by action of congress to legalize 2.75 per cent beer and wine. This percentage of alSuch an overthrow of prohibition, he coholic content, he explained, already has been termed "non-intoxicating" by government experts and therefore is not banned by the eighteenth amendment.

TRIBUTE PAID FALLEN HEROES

Wellsville ex-service men and citizens paid tribute to the city's soldier dead at the annual Memorial Day services Sunday morning in Spring Hill cemetery.

A large throng heard Attorney Eugene Roberts, of Youngstown, eulogize veterans of the nation's conflicts in a stirring plea for their eternal remembrance.

The cemetery exercises were preceded by short services at the soldiers' and sailors' monument in Riverside avenue and Fourth street. F. E. Sellman delivered a short talk as the flag was raised to the breeze. School children, ex-soldiers, sailors and citizens took part in the ensuing march to the cemetery.

Appropriate music was provided by the American Legion band. Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, and Rev. R. E. Games, pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church, assisted in the services. Singing of "America" was led by Superintendent of Schools S. E. Daw. Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read by E. T. Fogo.

In his address, Attorney Roberts briefly recounted the historic achievements of the nation from the time of the landing of the colonists. He concluded his talk with a plea that the country never forget its deeds of those who fell on the fields of battle.

A half-dozen aged warriors, survivors of the days of '61, sat through the services. Unable to carry out the customary G. A. R. exercises, the veterans in blue placed this part of the srevices in the hands of Legion ex-service men, J. B. Fickes and John Grafton, who read off the ritual

Graves of fallen soldiers were decorated by school children and the Legion.

Wellsville post 70, American Legion, tomorrow will launch its endowment fund drive for disabled veterans, and orphans, seeking from the city $813 as the local post's share of the country's $5,000,000 quota.

The principle, when raised, will be placed in the hands of capable executives. Only the interest will be used, and this solely in relief activities.

Instead of $813, however, the local Legion post will ask the city for only $733, because of the fact that Legion members themselves have already contributed 10 percent of the city quota, or approximately $80. This amount has been paid in and is in the bank. One member entered the $10 class, three the $5 division; several contributed $2, and others $1 and more.

Merchants Erect Flags.

A series of large American flags, erected at intervals along the sidewalks from Third to Seventh street, added greatly to the appearance of the city on Memorial day.

The flags were purchased by local merchants through the Veterans of Foreign wars, commanded by Fred Heldman.

Worker is Scalded While Working on Drlling Machine

William Grimm, Elm street, was scalded about the knees Friday morning while working on a drilling machine near the Purinton fram about two miles north of this city.

The accident happened when one of the flue pipes in the boiler exploded, the scalding steam catching young Grimm on the legs. He was taken to his home where his burns were dressed by Dr. F. R. Harrison. His condition is not serious.

13 MOTORISTS TO FACE MAYOR

Traffic Law Offenders Are Arrested Here Over Week-end.

With the exception of traffic violations the local police had a quiet Memorial Day and week-end. Thirteen persons were arrested charged with violation of traffic rules and regulations, while two others were apprehended on charges of drunkenness.

J. E. Bair, Sherwood, paid a fine of $10 and costs, totalling to $15.80, when he was arraigned before the mayor charged with fast and reckless driving. Bair is alleged to have driven down Bradshaw avenue Saturday afternoon, at a speed estimated at 45 miles an hour. He was arrested by Chief McDermott.

T. N. Huston, Negley, was arrested by Patrolman McFarland on Bank street, Saturday evening, charged with passing a street car while it was discharging passengers. He posted bond for his appearance.

C. B. Yonz was arrested by Patrolman James Haley on a fast and reckless driving charge. He, too, posted bond for his appearance.

E. J. Guillarmod, construction foreman, was arrested on the River road by Captain Conley last night, after his machine is alleged to have crashed into another car. He was charged with driving a car while intoxicated. No one was injured in the crash although wrecking car equipment was required to separate the two automobiles figuring in the crash.

Charges have also been filed against the holders of the following licenses whose cars were "tagged" by the police in their week-end activities: 242-013, T-112-748; P-C 034; 242-173; 242-063; T-112-419; 241-675.

FAVOR LONDON FOR DEBT MEET

Sidetrack Washington and Paris, is Unofficial Hint.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—A movement has been launched here in unofficial circles close to the administrations in London, instead of either in Paris of Washington.

There was no indication today that this suggestion had come directly from President Coolidge or any member of his cabinet, and for the present they permitted no deviation from the understanding that it was the desire of the administration to have all debt-funding negotiations take place in the United States. In the meantime, however, they are awaiting with interest the reaction in Europe to the unofficial suggestion that the debt conference be held on neutral territory.

Officials pointed out that ample after formal notification had been received from France that she was ready to open debt negotiations. If the French government at that time expressed an unwillingness to send a debt commission to Washington and the United States stood firm against sending an American commission to Paris, the time would then be ripe to extend a formal invitation to both the American and French governments to have their debt negotiations in the British capital.

HOPES OF 'WETS' ARE HARD HIT

Prohibition Repeal Unlikely—May Get 2.75 Beer.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—A death blow to the hopes of "wets" that the national prohibition law may be repealed, if the Coolidge administration's rum war fails, was sounded King, Democrat, of Utah, who led here today by Senator William H. of the eighteenth amendment. congressional opposition to enactment

King declared there can be no real change in the dry statute, even though the government finally confesses its inability to properly enforce the law. To restore old-fashioned beer and other intoxicating liquors, he said, ment with its ratification by 36 states, would require a constitufional amendadded, is hopeless during the present generation.

The only possible modification, King asserted, might come by action of congress to legalize 2.75 per cent beer and wine. This percentage of alSuch an overthrow of prohibition, he coholic content, he explained, already has been termed "non-intoxicating" by government experts and therefore is not banned by the eighteenth amendment.

TRIBUTE PAID FALLEN HEROES

Wellsville ex-service men and citizens paid tribute to the city's soldier dead at the annual Memorial Day services Sunday morning in Spring Hill cemetery.

A large throng heard Attorney Eugene Roberts, of Youngstown, eulogize veterans of the nation's conflicts in a stirring plea for their eternal remembrance.

The cemetery exercises were preceded by short services at the soldiers' and sailors' monument in Riverside avenue and Fourth street. F. E. Sellman delivered a short talk as the flag was raised to the breeze. School children, ex-soldiers, sailors and citizens took part in the ensuing march to the cemetery.

Appropriate music was provided by the American Legion band. Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, and Rev. R. E. Games, pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church, assisted in the services. Singing of "America" was led by Superintendent of Schools S. E. Daw. Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read by E. T. Fogo.

In his address, Attorney Roberts briefly recounted the historic achievements of the nation from the time of the landing of the colonists. He concluded his talk with a plea that the country never forget its deeds of those who fell on the fields of battle.

A half-dozen aged warriors, survivors of the days of '61, sat through the services. Unable to carry out the customary G. A. R. exercises, the veterans in blue placed this part of the srevices in the hands of Legion ex-service men, J. B. Fickes and John Grafton, who read off the ritual

Graves of fallen soldiers were decorated by school children and the Legion.

LEGION STARTS DRIVE TUESDAY

Wellsville post 70, American Legion, tomorrow will launch its endowment fund drive for disabled veterans, and orphans, seeking from the city $813 as the local post's share of the country's $5,000,000 quota.

The principle, when raised, will be placed in the hands of capable executives. Only the interest will be used, and this solely in relief activities.

Instead of $813, however, the local Legion post will ask the city for only $733, because of the fact that Legion members themselves have already contributed 10 percent of the city quota, or approximately $80. This amount has been paid in and is in the bank. One member entered the $10 class, three the $5 division; several contributed $2, and others $1 and more.

PASTOR URGES "CHRIST LIFE"

Rev. R. W. Ustick Addresses 1925 Graduating Class.

"Henceforth, let no man trouble me, for I bear branded on my body the marks of Jesus." Taking this as his theme, Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, delivered an inspirational address to 54 girls and boys of the high school graduating class last night at baccalaureate services in the school auditorium.

Hundreds of Wellsville citizens, including parents of the seniors who within a week will bid farewell to the Orange and Black, crowded the auditorium.

Rev. Ustick's address follows:

"The man who fell before the face of Christ, in the dust of the Damascus road, whose acceptance of Christ as his Lord was so genuine that he became the supreme leader of the forces of the Christ whom he had before persecuted, whose eloquence has shaped his Christian thought of the centuries, is the author of the words before us. The Apostle Paul is the writer of this flaming sentence. 'I bear branded on my body the marks of Jesus.'

"His historical self defense or his apostleship, his theological argument, his practical admonitions, with the blended strain of entreaty that runs through the whole—now rising into awful severity, now sinking into mother-like tenderness—have reached their conclusion.

"The stream of deep and fervent thought pouring itself out in these pages has spent its force. But in the closing word this apostle has left the world no more characteristic utterance of his mind, or no more clearer insight into the texture of his life than this word of our text.

"What led the apostle to say this? What is it exactly that he has said? What did he mean when he said this? There are questions to be answered in the beginning.

"What does Paul mean? He means that the justification for his life is found in the kind of a life he has lived. He means that the scars of his service are the credentials of his apostleship. He means that his right to proclaim the gospel of Christ is proven by the signs of what he has suffered in the proclamation of that gospel. H emeans that his life blood has been given in eloquent tribute of his devotion and loyalty to Christ.

"It is this work we want to give to these young ladies and gentlemen of the graduating class. We know of no more challenging werd to give to this class in whose future each of us are so vitally interested, than this word of the Apostle Paul, 'Henceforth let no man trouble me; for I bear branded in my body the marks of Jesus.'

"When your life reaches its apex—when it comes to the supreme test, whether you had the right to live will then be determined by the marks with which your life has branded you. At the close you will each bear branded in your life the marks of something, or some one.

"I charge you tonight with the future. I want you to look ahead, so that when you have lived the life for which you are now preparing, the burnt-in brands of that life shall be the credentials which no man can question. Allow me to suggest to you that you live the Christ-branded life.

"There are three questions to which I draw your attention.

"1. What are the marks of a Christ-branded man?

"There must be an appraisement of the life of Christ himself. The most diverse types of mind have recognized in Jesus the ideal life for men. Strauss says of him, 'Never at any time will it be possible to rise above him, or to imagine anyone who should ever be equal with him.' John Stuart Mill said, 'There is no better rule than so to live that Christ would approve your life.' The Apostle John said, 'Behold the Lamb of God who takes a way the sin of the world.' Peter cried, 'Thou art the Christ,' and Paul exclaims, 'For me to live is Christ.'

"'I believe,' says Mr. Ruskin, in Modern Literature, 'the first test of a truly great man is his humility. All great men not only know of their business, but usually know that they know it, and are not only right in their main opinions, but they usually know that that they are right in them, only they do not think much of themselves on that account.

"They have a curious undersense of powerlessness, feeling that the power is not IN them, but THROUGH them, that they could not do or be anything else that God made them, and they see something divine and God-made in every other man they meet, and are endlessly, foolishly, incredibly merciful.

"A humility even deeper than this marked the life of Christ. He was thoroughly submissive to the Father's will. Josus lived a life of sacrifical service.

"'I am come, not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give my life a ransom for the many.' Jesus lived a friendly life. He loved his enemies.

"With Christ before us it will not be hard to discover the marks of a Christian man. He will be pure, His life will be friendly, the truth will shape his footsteps and mould his words, service will grace his ministry like a golden crown, and a Christ-like character will be the fruit that he will hand back to God.

"Truth must be the first law in character and happiness. And purity must be wrought into this building. John Milton said: 'He who would write a heroic poem must first live a heroic life.'

"Has service a place in your plans, are you looking at your life as an opportunity of investment?

"There are many other things here that we cannot mention. This is sufficient—that to have the marks of a Christ-branded man about you, you must be richly endowed with the spirit of Christ—you must live your life as he lived his.

"The second question is: What are the methods of branding?

"The first thing is: Believe in Christ."

"As a historical figure merely, Christ can benefit us but little. He must be accepted by us, our life must be pressed close to His life to receive from Him what He has to give us.

"The second thing is: Put on Christ. As we believe in Christ we throw our lives in the way of the impelling force of his influence and our lives are changed from without—we become like Him.

"The third thing: Abide in Christ. Obey Him, and you will love Him; abide in Him and you must obey Him; cultivate daily His Friendship—live after Christ day by day, and you will be abiding in Christ.

"The third question follows: What Are the measurements of a Christ-branded life?

"First, a changed life. Under the right conditions it is as natural for character to become beautiful as for a flower. We become like those whom we habitually admire. We are all mosaics of other men. On the doctrine of influence the whole vast pyramid of humanity is built.

"We do no more than state this simple fact, that the first result of a Christ-branded life will be that you will live a changed life. This simple fact becomes supremely important in view of the second result: a challenging life. The only prospect you have of making an impression upon the world into which you are going, is to carry out to that world a changed life. Then, and only then, can you challenge the facts of life in a worth while way. Changed men will change the world, and challenge the many problems of the world. The scrap heap of abandoned hopes grows large as one after another of the follies which we hoped were to redeem humanity have betrayed their own futility.

The doctrine of Godless, automatic progress lies buried on the battlefields of France. The desperate delusion of salvation through social and industrial revolution has had its bloody revelation in Moscow.

Redemption by materialistic intellectualism reveals its fallacy in broken Germany.

"A Christ-branded life will be a changed life and that in turn means a challenged life. This is your only hope of justifying your years of preparation—that your challenge life with a character changed by the impact of Christ's life upon your own.

"A claimed life is the third measurement of a Christ-branded life. The seal of Divine ownership is upon that sort of life—you become a co-laborer with Christ—you enter the fellowship of master Christians, when the marks of Christ are branded upon you. We become members of the brotherhood of the branded brow—God claims us as his own. Claimed by him in the end, his name branded on their foreheads—this is the measurement of a Christ-branded-life.

"Summing them up, the measurement of a life that carries branded the marks of Jesus, are these: It will be a changed life, a challenging life and a claimed life.

"My friends of the graduating class, we congratulate you upon the thing you have attained. You have completed one step forward into the future. The results of your future work will be but the products of your deciding how to do certain things and of your working at them until you have done these things.

"You should be greatly concerned about what sort of a purpose you have in life, for you will most certainly go in the direction in which you have purposed to go. We know of no better purpose for you than the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

"The high way which openeth to you tonight, my dear friends, is the highway of the Christ-branded life. It is the way that leads you out through the future years to the day when, looking back over the trail you will be able to say, henceforth let no man trouble me; for I bear branded in my body the marks of Jesus.

"We wish you God speed; we shall pray for you, and think of you, and be interested in you."

How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

PRISONER MAKES ESCAPE; RETURNS

Facing two charges, one filed in Wellsville police court and the other in a Jefferson county court, Mervin Rowley, of this city, today is a prisoner in the Jefferson county jail at Steubenville following his sensational escape from police headquarters here Saturday night when he is alleged to have assaulted Officer Chal Excell. Rowley voluntarily gave himself up several hours after he had made his getaway.

Rowley will be arraigned in Steubenville on a charge of moving mortgaged furniture from Jefferson county. He was arrested here at the request of Jefferson county authorities.

A charge of resisting an officer will await the prisoner if he re-appears in the local police court.

According to authorities, Rowley made his getaway from city hall here Saturday night. He is said to have asked Officer Excell for a drink of water. The latter got the water and handed it to Rowley and the latter, it is claimed, suddenly threw his body against Excell's, and toppled him over into several chairs in the council chamber. Before Excell could extricate himself, Rowley dashed down the steps and disappeared. Excell fired several shots in the air in front of city hall, in an attempt to frighten the escaping prisoner.

Later in the night, Rowley, from a local telephone, called Chief of Police John Fultz, and asserted he was ready to go back to jail. He later gave himself up and Sunday was taken to Steubenville.

KIWANIS CLUB BUSINESS MEET

Members of the Wellsville Kiwanis club will hold their regular business session at their noon luncheon meeting tomorrow.

The club is laying plans for the program which it will carry out at East Liverpool on the night of June 11, at an inter-city club meeting.

At the Yellow Creek Grange hall on Thursday evening, June 4th, Rev. Ustick will give a lecture at 8:30 o'clock. Everyone cordially invited. Admission 15c and 10c.

PASTOR URGES "CHRIST LIFE"

Rev. R. W. Ustick Addresses 1925 Graduating Class.

"Henceforth, let no man trouble me, for I bear branded on my body the marks of Jesus." Taking this as his theme, Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, delivered an inspirational address to 54 girls and boys of the high school graduating class last night at baccalaureate services in the school auditorium.

Hundreds of Wellsville citizens, including parents of the seniors who within a week will bid farewell to the Orange and Black, crowded the auditorium.

Rev. Ustick's address follows:

"The man who fell before the face of Christ, in the dust of the Damascus road, whose acceptance of Christ as his Lord was so genuine that he became the supreme leader of the forces of the Christ whom he had before persecuted, whose eloquence has shaped his Christian thought of the centuries, is the author of the words before us. The Apostle Paul is the writer of this flaming sentence. 'I bear branded on my body the marks of Jesus.'

"His historical self defense or his apostleship, his theological argument, his practical admonitions, with the blended strain of entreaty that runs through the whole—now rising into awful severity, now sinking into mother-like tenderness—have reached their conclusion.

"The stream of deep and fervent thought pouring itself out in these pages has spent its force. But in the closing word this apostle has left the world no more characteristic utterance of his mind, or no more clearer insight into the texture of his life than this word of our text.

"What led the apostle to say this? What is it exactly that he has said? What did he mean when he said this? There are questions to be answered in the beginning.

"What does Paul mean? He means that the justification for his life is found in the kind of a life he has lived. He means that the scars of his service are the credentials of his apostleship. He means that his right to proclaim the gospel of Christ is proven by the signs of what he has suffered in the proclamation of that gospel. H emeans that his life blood has been given in eloquent tribute of his devotion and loyalty to Christ.

"It is this work we want to give to these young ladies and gentlemen of the graduating class. We know of no more challenging werd to give to this class in whose future each of us are so vitally interested, than this word of the Apostle Paul, 'Henceforth let no man trouble me; for I bear branded in my body the marks of Jesus.'

"When your life reaches its apex—when it comes to the supreme test, whether you had the right to live will then be determined by the marks with which your life has branded you. At the close you will each bear branded in your life the marks of something, or some one.

"I charge you tonight with the future. I want you to look ahead, so that when you have lived the life for which you are now preparing, the burnt-in brands of that life shall be the credentials which no man can question. Allow me to suggest to you that you live the Christ-branded life.

"There are three questions to which I draw your attention.

"1. What are the marks of a Christ-branded man?

"There must be an appraisement of the life of Christ himself. The most diverse types of mind have recognized in Jesus the ideal life for men. Strauss says of him, 'Never at any time will it be possible to rise above him, or to imagine anyone who should ever be equal with him.' John Stuart Mill said, 'There is no better rule than so to live that Christ would approve your life.' The Apostle John said, 'Behold the Lamb of God who takes a way the sin of the world.' Peter cried, 'Thou art the Christ,' and Paul exclaims, 'For me to live is Christ.'

"'I believe,' says Mr. Ruskin, in Modern Literature, 'the first test of a truly great man is his humility. All great men not only know of their business, but usually know that they know it, and are not only right in their main opinions, but they usually know that that they are right in them, only they do not think much of themselves on that account.

"They have a curious undersense of powerlessness, feeling that the power is not IN them, but THROUGH them, that they could not do or be anything else that God made them, and they see something divine and God-made in every other man they meet, and are endlessly, foolishly, incredibly merciful.

"A humility even deeper than this marked the life of Christ. He was thoroughly submissive to the Father's will. Josus lived a life of sacrifical service.

"'I am come, not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give my life a ransom for the many.' Jesus lived a friendly life. He loved his enemies.

"With Christ before us it will not be hard to discover the marks of a Christian man. He will be pure, His life will be friendly, the truth will shape his footsteps and mould his words, service will grace his ministry like a golden crown, and a Christ-like character will be the fruit that he will hand back to God.

"Truth must be the first law in character and happiness. And purity must be wrought into this building. John Milton said: 'He who would write a heroic poem must first live a heroic life.'

"Has service a place in your plans, are you looking at your life as an opportunity of investment?

"There are many other things here that we cannot mention. This is sufficient—that to have the marks of a Christ-branded man about you, you must be richly endowed with the spirit of Christ—you must live your life as he lived his.

"The second question is: What are the methods of branding?

"The first thing is: Believe in Christ."

"As a historical figure merely, Christ can benefit us but little. He must be accepted by us, our life must be pressed close to His life to receive from Him what He has to give us.

"The second thing is: Put on Christ. As we believe in Christ we throw our lives in the way of the impelling force of his influence and our lives are changed from without—we become like Him.

"The third thing: Abide in Christ. Obey Him, and you will love Him; abide in Him and you must obey Him; cultivate daily His Friendship—live after Christ day by day, and you will be abiding in Christ.

"The third question follows: What Are the measurements of a Christ-branded life?

"First, a changed life. Under the right conditions it is as natural for character to become beautiful as for a flower. We become like those whom we habitually admire. We are all mosaics of other men. On the doctrine of influence the whole vast pyramid of humanity is built.

"We do no more than state this simple fact, that the first result of a Christ-branded life will be that you will live a changed life. This simple fact becomes supremely important in view of the second result: a challenging life. The only prospect you have of making an impression upon the world into which you are going, is to carry out to that world a changed life. Then, and only then, can you challenge the facts of life in a worth while way. Changed men will change the world, and challenge the many problems of the world. The scrap heap of abandoned hopes grows large as one after another of the follies which we hoped were to redeem humanity have betrayed their own futility.

The doctrine of Godless, automatic progress lies buried on the battlefields of France. The desperate delusion of salvation through social and industrial revolution has had its bloody revelation in Moscow.

Redemption by materialistic intellectualism reveals its fallacy in broken Germany.

"A Christ-branded life will be a changed life and that in turn means a challenged life. This is your only hope of justifying your years of preparation—that your challenge life with a character changed by the impact of Christ's life upon your own.

"A claimed life is the third measurement of a Christ-branded life. The seal of Divine ownership is upon that sort of life—you become a co-laborer with Christ—you enter the fellowship of master Christians, when the marks of Christ are branded upon you. We become members of the brotherhood of the branded brow—God claims us as his own. Claimed by him in the end, his name branded on their foreheads—this is the measurement of a Christ-branded life.

"Summing them up, the measurement of a life that carries branded the marks of Jesus, are these: It will be a changed life, a challenging life and a claimed life.

"My friends of the graduating class, we congratulate you upon the thing you have attained. You have completed one step forward into the future. The results of your future work will be but the products of your deciding how to do certain things and of your working at them until you have done these things.

"You should be greatly concerned about what sort of a purpose you have in life, for you will most certainly go in the direction in which you have purposed to go. We know of no better purpose for you than the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

"The high way which openeth to you tonight, my dear friends, is the highway of the Christ-branded life. MONDAY, JUNE 1, 1925.

Better Mailing Week

Postmaster J. E. McClure today appealed to patrons of the East Liverpool postoffice to help Uncle Sam annihilate "nixies"—a piece of mail so carelessly and poorly wrapped that it can neither be delivered nor returned without special treatment. Because "nixies" cost the government $2,000,000 a year, stress on proper addresses is being made this week by all workers in the postal service.

Judging from the fact that 21,000,000 letters and 803,000 parcels went to the dead letter office last year, thousands of patrons of the mails take it for granted that Uncle Sam has many wonder-workers on his payroll.

Despite expert handling and careful study of hand-writing on the part of post clerks, the annual revenue from dead mail matter received by the government amounts to approximately $300,000.

Last year the dead letter office received $120,000 from the sale of orphaned packages which could neither be forwarded to the addresses nor returned to the senders because of inadequate addresses. The same office turned into the United States treasury $55,523.96 in cash removed from misdirected letters or found loose in the mails.

Postage stamps were taken from letters or found loose in the mails having a value of $12,165.67, almost double the entire revenue of the postal service in 1789

Three-cent fees collected for the return to senders of letters which could not be delivered totaled $92,007.54.

But this is not half the story. Checks, drafts and money orders, whose owners could not be located, and amounting to $3,546,542.54 finally found a resting place in the dead letter office.

Help annihilate the "nixies" by putting your address in the upper left-hand corner of envelopes and parcels after writing the correct address of your correspondent. Let's put the dead letter office out of business and improve the postal service.

National Burglar Insurance

"I saw America 20 years ago, and I am amazed at its growth," says Dean Inge, of London. "It has raced ahead of Europe. We (the Europeans) have only progressed slowly, but America has made enormous speed. Already it is probably the greatest country in the world. It has such a position that it is invulnerable. It can devote all its energies to improving itself, whereas Europe has to spend a quarter of its income on a sort of burglar insurance against war."

It is very kind of the reverend gentleman to say all this, and most of his remarks are probably deserved. But doesn't he strain, just a little, the idea that America is able to devote "all its energies" to self-government?

Looking into the budget of the United States government for the current year, we find that we are spending something like $1,300,000,000 on the war and navy departments and the veterans' bureau, with a couple of hundred millions for military pensions and $865,000,000 for interest on the public debt—nearly all military debt. This makes about $2,100,000,000, nearly two-thirds of the government's income, for the expense of wars, past and prospective. Here is quite a little "burglar insurance" and burglar damages for a country which the dean enviously calls "invulnerable."

Simplified Litigation

Not all diseases require a major operation for cure and not all legal disputes require unpleasant litigation in court. A lawyer explains it this way:

"Sometimes I get to work on a particularly complicated case with so many angles that the solution seems hopeless. I get down my law books and begin to search them for light on the subject. And then I think of the lawyer on the other side and realize that he's in exactly the same predicament. I call him up, and we get together and talk the thing over honestly and frankly and usually we reach some simple compromise that delights both sets of clients, saves a lot of time and annoyance and does away with the need of costly court procedure."

A good many more lawyers have this common-sense attitude toward the law and legal disputes than is generally realized. If more people knew this they would have less fear of lawyers and would consult about their affairs oftener, thus avoiding many of the complicated difficulties they get themselves into.

Milk From Well-lighted Cows

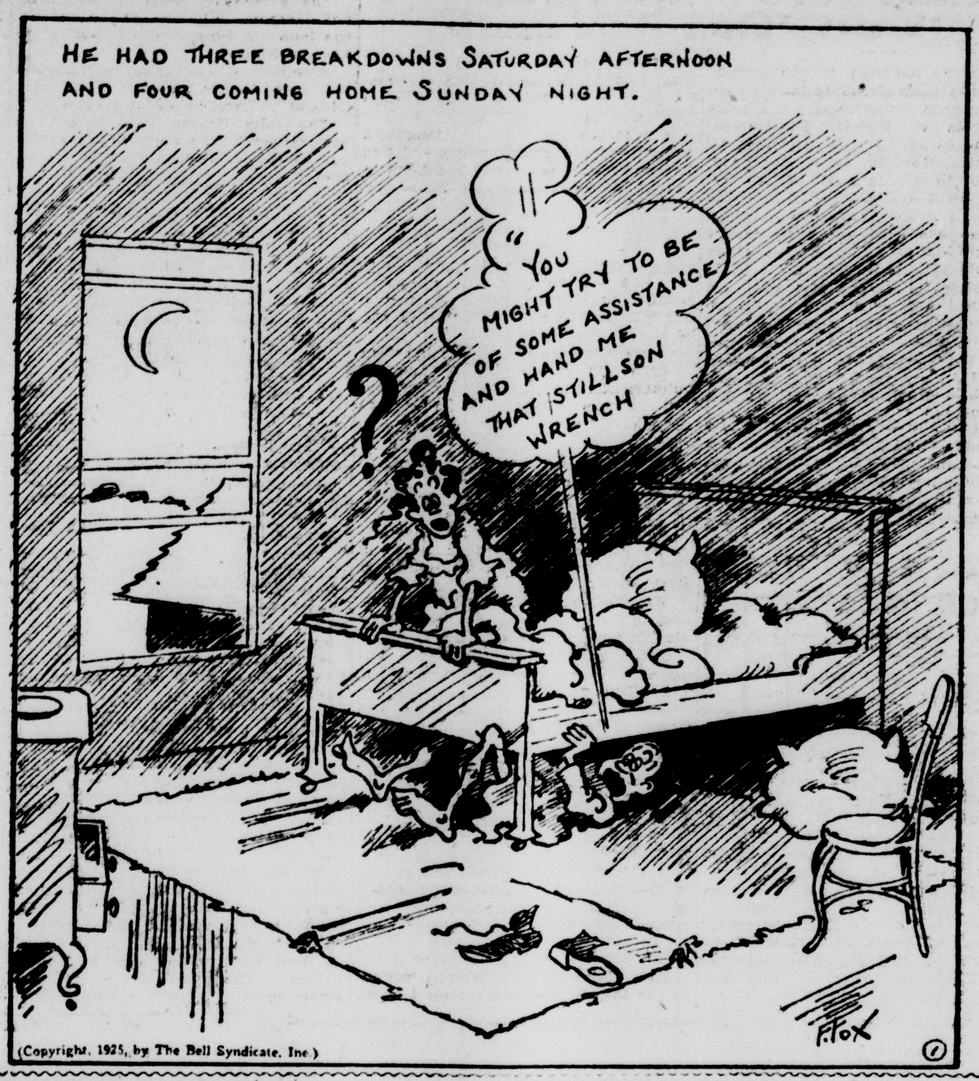

Anthracite in the coal bin is usually considered an unqualified good. The "anthracitics principle" in milk is something not so clearly understood. Nevertheless it is said to be essential to the health of the human body. Perhaps it is a cousin to vitamines.

At any rate, physicians and agricultural chemists have found from careful experiments that when cows lack sunlight their milk is deficient in this principle and the users of the milk are thereby defrauded of something they need. If the cows are subjected to artificial light from electric lamps giving forth mercury-vapor rays, their milk then contains the "anthracitic principle" and all is well.

The cows probably won't object to this mercury-vapor treatment. They undoubtedly miss the sunshine on cloudy days and may even rejoice in bovine fashion for a little artificial radiance in the barn.

It sometimes looks as if the chief benefit derived from colonies is the privilege of defending them against the world.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 1.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Early up and a brave bright day and so with my wife, poor wretch, by tram to Atlantic City to linger awhile on the sand and contemplate the sea.

And on the beach a little girl dropped her sand bucket as I passed and cried: "Oo! mother, what a skinny man!" and some simpering zanies twittered. So I plunged into the sea to cool my blushes. Afterward to ride in a roller chair to the Inlet, pushed by a tatterdemalion who told of having been graduated from a medical school and he was asked what brought him to such low estate and he replied in a sermonette: "Trying to be a good fellow."

Back along the boardwalk and bought some salt water taffy and mighty catch. Took tram again at then out to the fish pier to see the 10 and slept all the way from Philadelphia home.

Culture is being broadcast to the Tired Business Man by mail. A young man of great learning who fizzled on a high brow magazine is now furnishing a terse resume of the latest plays, novels and art exhibits, his dinner companion that he is not weekly so that the T. B. may show so dumb as it might appear.

Gene Tunney, the pugilist, is almost a double of the Handsome Hal of the collar ads. He is one of the bright sartorial spots of Broadway's Fashion Row. He is to New York what Gene Markey is to Chicago. the nonchalance of a Harry Lehr and Tunney wears full evening dress with self-respecting spectrum curl up a few his scarfs and hose would make any colors and pant for air. So distinguished a dilettante as Michael Arlen, the petted darling of Mayfair, pronounced Tunney a stophole in Chesterfieldian elan.

And speaking of Arlen, the closing days of his visit here proved a striging example of how New York can pick up a visitor, rush him off his feet and then calmly turn its back—like the child tiring of a new toy. No visiting novelist has ever been received with such a flourish. He was lionized by society as well as the Algonquinites. Bored reporters dogged his steps because he was news. Menus concocted dishes a la Arlen. Hat shops displayed Arlen hats with a side dip.

Soulful young ladies clotted at his hotel door so he would doff his hat to them in his mignon way. A supper club offered him $1,000 a week merely to drop in some time during the evening for a few moments. Arlen, Arlen everywhere.

A week before his departure interest sliughed off. Arleen was here but the enthusiasm was not. He had not failed to make an impression. New York had merely, in its customary fashion, turned to something new. "Paper Collar" Joe used to say anyone could be a ten-day wonder in New York but to keep it up was something else again.

The celebrity with the least self-consciousness of all I have seen is John McCormack, the singer. He appears to display the art of self-effacement in every gathering. He sits in the most inconspicuous corner and is able to listen to those about him without being bored.

There is another celebrity who arranges for a series of telephone calls while he is attending a party. He is being constantly called away from the dinner table for important conversations. Ring Lardner sat next to him one evening and after returning from the third call. Lardner said: "I hope nothing serious is worrying Coolidge."

Members of the J. J. club will meet Tuesday evening in the home of Miss Marian Smith of St. George Street.

Luther League Picnic.

Members of the Luther League of St. John's Lutheran church enjoyed a basket picnic Saturday at Rock Springs park, Chester. The afternoon was spent with rowing and other outdoor sports. The picnic was arranged by Mrs. Victor Rinestein and Mrs. Norman Hall.

During the evening 16 members went to the home of Rudolph Forber of Indiana avenue, Chester, where they were entertained.

The Luther League meeting which was arranged for Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Walter Stier of Vine street, has been postponed until June 12, on account of preparatory services.

Card Party at Country Club.

Friday evening, in the East Liverpool Country club, the club members enjoyed the semi-monthly card party.

Ten tables were in play during the social hours, after which refreshments were served by the committee, which included Mr. and Mrs. Homer J. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Louthan.

The committee for the next evening party will include Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Comstock and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Robinson.

Shower for Bride-Elect.

Misses Ellen and Magdalene Dugan of Cadmus street entertained with a miscellaneous shower recently in honor of Miss Ellen Owens, whose marriage will be an event of June. The social hours were spent with music, games and dancing, after which a luncheon was served, covers being arranged for 20 guests.

Miss Helen Gill And Martin Foley Wedding Principals

A pretty wedding was solemnized this morning at 7 o'clock in St. Aloysius Catholic church, when Miss Helen Frances Gill, daughter of Mrs. Anna Gill, became the bride of Martin Joseph Foley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Foley, Sr., of Wellsville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas E. Walsh, pastor of the church.

Miss Margaret Foley, a sister of the bridegroom, and Harry L. Gill, a brother of the bride, were the only attendants.

The young couple approached the altar to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, which was played by Mrs. Margaret William Miskall. "Ave Maria" and "Because" were sung during the ceremony by Mrs. Anna Hamill Cronin.

The bride was gowned in white crepe trimmed in gold and silver beads with hat to match. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a gown of orchid satin with hat to match. She carried pink rosebuds.

The bridegroom is employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served in the home of the bride's mother. After an eastern honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Foley will be at home to friends in a newly furnished residence in Wellsville.

Miss Caldwell Entertains.

Miss Alice Caldwell of Beechwood entertained a group of friends in her home Friday evening, honoring Miss Verna Harrison, who will leave soon for Fredericktown, Pa., where she will spend the summer. The social hours were spent with music, games and dancing, after which a luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Verna Harrison and Miss Jennie Alley. Covers were arranged for 18 guests.

Friendship Class Session.

The Friendship class of the Pleasant Heights will be entertained Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Shaffer. A short business session will be followed by informal social hours, after which refreshments will be served by Mrs. John Jones, Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Charles Sraffer and Mrs. Edgar McCartney. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Ray Stevens and Mrs. Ulmstead.

Miss Rebecca Birch Becomes Bride of Thomas C. Fisher

On Friday morning, in the parsonage of the First Presbyterian church, Miss Rebecca Birch became the bride of Thomas C. Fisher. The impressive ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Dr. D. W. MacLeod.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Sarah M. Birch and graduated from the local high school with the class of '16. She has been a school teacher since graduating. She wore a green ensemble suit trimmed in black, with a russet hat. Miss Lozela Birch, a sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid, wearing cream lace over pink crepe satin. The bride's and bridesmaid's corsages were of sweetpeas and roses.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fisher of Ohioville, Pa., and is employed in the gas and oil fields of Pennsylvania.

TRIBUTE PAID SOLDIER DEAD

Parade is Followed by Exercises at Locust Hill.

Fitting tribute was paid to the soldier dead here Memorial day when impressive ceremonies were held in Locust Hill cemetery following a parade over the principal streets of the city.

The parade formed at Tenth street and Carolina avenue and from that point moved to First street where automobiles were taken to the cemetery. Mayor Frank Riley was marshal. More than 200 handsomely decorated automobiles led the line of march. They were followed by the World war veterans on foot and Civil war veterans in autos. Music was furnished by the Salvation Army band of East Liverpool. The parade was witnessed by a large crowd that lined the sidewalks over the route of march.

Ceremonies at the cemetery opened with the song "America," after which the opening prayer was delivered by Rev. A. E. Sims, pastor of the First Christian church. General Logan's order establishing Memorial day was read after which the ritual was carried out by members of Jesse Burge Post No. 222, Veterans of Foreign Wars. The address was delivered by Rev. Frederic A. Cromer, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Pughtown. Singing by a quartet and assembly was directed by Carl G. Woods. Introductory address was made by Rev. J. H. McKnight, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, while the benediction was offered by Rev. A. E. Sims.

TWO YOUTHS GIVEN FINES BY MAYOR

Chief of Police Brady Seevers arrested two youths here last Friday night while in the act of removing spare tires from a machine at Rock Springs park. They were arraigned later in the evening before Mayor Frank Riley and each fined $25 and $35. They made arrangements to pay and were released from custody.

LEADERS PLAN TO END SESSION

Extraordinary session of the legislature will probably end the latter part of this week, according to plans formulated by the leaders during the holiday recess.

The senate on Friday defeated the proposal to increase the price of auto licenses 30 per cent as proposed in the bill submitted by the joint committee that framed the revenue program. The house is expected to act today on the measure proposing an additional cent tax on gasoline.

LOCAL STUDENT WILL GRADUATE

John G. Miller and Donald M. Hartford, both of Chester, are among the students who will graduate at the commencement exercises of Washington-Jefferson college at Washington, Pa., Saturday morning. Fred D. Atkinson, of New Cumberland, will also receive his diploma. The address to the class will be delivered by Rev. John J. Moment of Plainfield, N. J. Baccalaureate services were held yesterday.

Hot Mills to Resume.

Hot mills of the Chester plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company will resume operations at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning.

MILL WORKER BEING SOUGHT

Midland Man is Alleged Principal in Shooting Affray.

Beaver county, Pa., officials today are seeking James Ferena, Midland mill worker, who was the principal in a "mysterious" shooting affray near Hookstown last week. Ferena said he was struck by a shot fired through the door of his automobile while he and two companions were sitting in the car waiting for a storm to abate, but did not know who shot him. Recovering from a flesh wound, Ferena was discharged from the East Liverpool hospital where he was brought last Monday morning.

William Davidson, a special Beaver county investigator, claims that Ferena and his two friends went to a small shack occupied by John Molwich, near Hookstown, and fired into the building.

Molwich returned the fire, one of the bullets wounding Ferena. Molwich sustained several buckshot wounds in his back but was not seriously injured.

CHESTER TRIMMED HERE SATURDAY

Chester baseball team of the Industrial league, minus a number of regular players, fell an easy prey to New Cumberland here Saturday afternoon before a large crowd, score 10 to 4. The locals were far below their usual form and the county seaters had little trouble in winning.

This evening the locals will meet the re-organized Nash Motors of Wellsville on the Fifth street diamond. Thursday evening Knowles, Taylor and Knowles will play here. This game was scheduled for Wellsville but was switched here owing to a carnival occupying the ball grounds.

Stolen Auto Recovered.

An automobile belonging to a man named Marshall, residing in Pleasant Heights, East Liverpool, which was stolen here Saturday night was recovered last evening in the lower end of the city by Chief of Police Brady Seevers, and returned to its owner.

County Court In Session.

Regular meeting of the county court is being held today in the court house at New Cumberland. Number of important matters are listed for consideration.

Work Progressing.

Work of paving the Chester-Pittsburgh road in the vicinity of Laughlin's Corners will probably be completed by the end of the week. The cold spell of last week resulted in a delay on the improvement.

PERFECT REST
Ka-di-ok Brings Healthy Sleep

What is more enjoyable or health producing than perfect rest and sleep at night? Sleeplessness and languor accompany stomach troubles, kidney and liver complaints, rheumatism, nervous disorders, etc., and aids in destruction of an already weakened system. You don't have to diet when you take Ka-di-ok for any of these troubles.

Mrs. Roy D. Devor

"I was in a weakened, debilitated and run-down condition. I took Ka-di-ok and it helped me wonderfully. I now sleep well, eat heartily and of what I want and like, and feel the pleasure of real living. Ka-di-ok is a wonderful medicine." — Mrs. Roy D. Devor, 426 6th St., Dayton, O.

TRIBUTE PAID SOLDIER DEAD

Parade is Followed by Exercises at Locust Hill.

Fitting tribute was paid to the soldier dead here Memorial day when impressive ceremonies were held in Locust Hill cemetery following a parade over the principal streets of the city.

The parade formed at Tenth street and Carolina avenue and from that point moved to First street where automobiles were taken to the cemetery. Mayor Frank Riley was marshal. More than 200 handsomely decorated automobiles led the line of march. They were followed by the World war veterans on foot and Civil war veterans in autos. Music was furnished by the Salvation Army band of East Liverpool. The parade was witnessed by a large crowd that lined the sidewalks over the route of march.

Ceremonies at the cemetery opened with the song "America," after which the opening prayer was delivered by Rev. A. E. Sims, pastor of the First Christian church. General Logan's order establishing Memorial day was read after which the ritual was carried out by members of Jesse Burge Post No. 222, Veterans of Foreign Wars. The address was delivered by Rev. Frederic A. Cromer, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Pughtown. Singing by a quartet and assembly was directed by Carl G. Woods. Introductory address was made by Rev. J. H. McKnight, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, while the benediction was offered by Rev. A. E. Sims.

TWO YOUTHS GIVEN FINES BY MAYOR

Chief of Police Brady Seevers arrested two youths here last Friday night while in the act of removing spare tires from a machine at Rock Springs park. They were arraigned later in the evening before Mayor Frank Riley and each fined $25 and $35. They made arrangements to pay and were released from custody.

LEADERS PLAN TO END SESSION

Extraordinary session of the legislature will probably end the latter part of this week, according to plans formulated by the leaders during the holiday recess.

The senate on Friday defeated the proposal to increase the price of auto licenses 30 per cent as proposed in the bill submitted by the joint committee that framed the revenue program. The house is expected to act today on the measure proposing an additional cent tax on gasoline.

MILL WORKER BEING SOUGHT

Midland Man is Alleged Principal in Shooting Affray.

Beaver county, Pa., officials today are seeking James Ferena, Midland mill worker, who was the principal in a "mysterious" shooting affray near Hookstown last week. Ferena said he was struck by a shot fired through the door of his automobile while he and two companions were sitting in the car waiting for a storm to abate, but did not know who shot him. Recovering from a flesh wound, Ferena was discharged from the East Liverpool hospital where he was brought last Monday morning.

William Davidson, a special Beaver county investigator, claims that Ferena and his two friends went to a small shack occupied by John Molwich, near Hookstown, and fired into the building.

Molwich returned the fire, one of the bullets wounding Ferena. Molwich sustained several buckshot wounds in his back but was not seriously injured.

CHESTER TRIMMED HERE SATURDAY

Chester baseball team of the Industrial league, minus a number of regular players, fell an easy prey to New Cumberland here Saturday afternoon before a large crowd, score 10 to 4. The locals were far below their usual form and the county seaters had little trouble in winning.

This evening the locals will meet the re-organized Nash Motors of Wellsville on the Fifth street diamond. Thursday evening Knowles, Taylor and Knowles will play here. This game was scheduled for Wellsville but was switched here owing to a carnival occupying the ball grounds.

Stolen Auto Recovered.

An automobile belonging to a man named Marshall, residing in Pleasant Heights, East Liverpool, which was stolen here Saturday night was recovered last evening in the lower end of the city by Chief of Police Brady Seevers, and returned to its owner.

PERFECT REST
Ka-di-ok Brings Healthy Sleep

What is more enjoyable or health producing than perfect rest and sleep at night? Sleeplessness and languor accompany stomach troubles, kidney and liver complaints, rheumatism, nervous disorders, etc., and aids in destruction of an already weakened system. You don't have to diet when you take Ka-di-ok for any of these troubles.

Mrs. Roy D. Devor

"I was in a weakened, debilitated and run-down condition. I took Ka-di-ok and it helped me wonderfully. I now sleep well, eat heartily and of what I want and like, and feel the pleasure of real living. Ka-di-ok is a wonderful medicine." — Mrs. Roy D. Devor, 426 6th St., Dayton, O.

Haskin's Letter

work Guild of America is the direct result of the inspiration furnished by an Englishwoman. In 1883, Lady Wolverton, who had for some time been much interested in a certain orphan asylum, conceived the idea of asking her friends to contribute each year two pieces of wearing apparel or of household linen for use in this asylum. She made the request that each of these articles be new. This was not to be an opportunity to rid one's self of garments no longer in style, or which were no longer desired.

Lady Wolverton succeded in interesting a number of her friends in her project. She named the group the Needlework Guild because of the original idea that the garments be made by the members themselves. After this first group had been organized for some time a local paper carried a notice of the work. This was copied in a London paper and Princess Mary of Cambridge, Duchess of Teck and the mother of the present Queen of England, became so interested in the movement that she organized the London Needlework Guild.

In 1885 Mrs. Alanson Hartpence, of Philadelphia, was traveling in England and heard of this organization and its work. When she returned to the United States she told of it, and her niece, who is now Mrs. John Wood Stewart, became so enthusiastic over the idea that she persuaded some of her friends to join her in starting a similar organization.

In deference to Lady Wolverton, who originated the idea, she called this little band the Needlework Guild of America. This organization has now grown to a membership of approximately 600,000, and has branches all over the United States. In the first year of its existence the number of garments collected was 921, while in 1924, 1,213,755 were collected.

Objects of the Guild.

The object of The Needlework Guild of America, is as stated in its by-laws, to collect and distribute new, plain, suitable garments to meet the great need of hospitals, homes, and and other charities, and to extend its usefulness by the organization of branches. Special collections of garments may be taken at times of local, national or international disaster.

The only requirement for membership is the annual contribution of two or more new articles of wearing apparel or household linen, or a donation of money. Any man, woman or child may become a member. The organization is non-sectarian and members of any faith are welcomed.

That this is true not only in theiry but in fact is shown by a report from Minneapolis: "We have succeeded in enlisting the help of all creeds in nationalities as Guild contributors. We have a wonderful Jewish section, one of Swedish women, Norwegian, two Catholic sections, various churches, study clubs and philanthropic societies."

While it is specially stated that garments collected in the regular manner should not be sent to foreign countries, special collections are made for this purpose. For instance, at the outbreak of the Euronean war in 1914 workrooms were established at Lyons, France. Later a War Relief department was opened in New York City for the purpose of aiding the needy of the allied countries.

The various branches of the guild took a particular interest in the people of St. Quentin, and many adopted orphens for whom they are still caring. Of course, in such cases it is necessary to obtain money, and one branch in Connecticut does this by giving a bridge party. Their friends like to come and enjoy themselves immensely. On one such occasion they were able without much effort to raise not only enough to readopt their particular French orphan, but an additional $25 which was used to help two needy St. Quentin families in whom they had formerly been interested. Thus the members of this branch combined an enjoyable social event with a good deed.

While money has always been a minor consideration with the Guild, no organization can be efficiently operated without funds. An executive office must be maintained, and money is necessary to defray certain expenses in connection with various conferences held for the purpose of stimulating interest in this guild and extending its activities. It was found that the contributions of the money-members—which number only one to every twenty-two garments—were insufficient to meet all these demands. Therefore a "Thank Offering" was established.

To this offering each branch is asked to contribute something—no matter how small the amount. It is not desired that the amount contributed work a hardship on any individual member. Various methods of raising this money have been contrived by the branches. Some held bazaars, the returns from which are used for this purpose. Some have rumage sales, others lawn parties, and still others bridge parties. One branch gave a large ball on which $300 was cleared. A portion of this was contributed to the Thank Offering. The rest was used for two purposes—to purchase materials out of which garments might be made, and as a donation to a shoe fund.

One of the most interesting phases of the work of the guild is its cooperation with Dr. Grenfell in his activities in Labrador. Dr. Grenfell is an English missionary physician who a number of years ago became much interested in the mariners of the North Sea. He has always maintained that it is important to improve the physical and economic conditions of these people before stressing the spiritual. He has devoted himself to this end, and through his efforts several hospitals, a series of cooperative stores, mills, and orphanage and a school have been built.

The Labrador branches of the guild reported that during the year 1923 they jointly contributed over 27,000 garments and articles of household linen. Because of the extremely cold climate of Labrador many heavier garments are needed than are usually contributed by guild members. Money has therefore been collected with which to purchase these.

Bed covering is another great need of the people of this far north country, and Dr. Grenfell recently requested that if possible the branches cooperating with him send blankets—thick or thin, old or new. He made the startling statement that some of these people have no blankets at all.

From a small group of energetic young women of Philadelphia in 1885, the guild has grown to a national organization affiliated with the Camp Fire Girls, the American Red Cross, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and other national associations. This is work where all can cooperate, met on the common ground of welfare service. It is a bond between peoples of differing creeds, nationalities and viewpoints. It is fuel beneath the melting pot.

Chinese living overseas send $200,000 annually to relatives and others at home.

Thought his case was hopeless
Resinol cleared away pimples in a week

Lexington, Mass., March 5:—"I had been suffering from shaving pimples on my neck for years and, I believe, had tried everything under the sun for them without avail. One day on a friend's advice, I purchased some of your Resinol Ointment and was astonished at the quick results. After a week's constant use, the pimples disappeared completely, leaving the skin clear and fresh. I had thought my case was hopeless, so you can readily see why I was overjoyed at this cure! You can be sure that henceforth you have one more loyal booster for your product." (Signed) Fred J. Fox, 8 Bloomfield St.

Too Big For Anyone to Miss!

Norma Talmadge in this stirring production rises to the pinnacle of dramatic art with the sheer inspiration of unfaultering genius. She lays bare the throbbing heart of a little dancing girl with such tender touches it brings a tear to every eye—the story of a girl who yearned to be a lady, and never realized what a wonderful Lady she was until someone looked into her heart.

After "Smilin' Through", 'Secrets' and all the other big ones comes the supreme triumph of our Norma's career.

work Guild of America is the direct result of the inspiration furnished by an Englishwoman. In 1883, Lady Wolverton, who had for some time been much interested in a certain orphan asylum, conceived the idea of asking her friends to contribute each year two pieces of wearing apparel or of household linen for use in this asylum. She made the request that each of these articles be new. This was not to be an opportunity to rid one's self of garments no longer in style, or which were no longer desired.

Lady Wolverton succeded in interesting a number of her friends in her project. She named the group the Needlework Guild because of the original idea that the garments be made by the members themselves. After this first group had been organized for some time a local paper carried a notice of the work. This was copied in a London paper and Princess Mary of Cambridge, Duchess of Teck and the mother of the present Queen of England, became so interested in the movement that she organized the London Needlework Guild.

In 1885 Mrs. Alanson Hartpence, of Philadelphia, was traveling in England and heard of this organization and its work. When she returned to the United States she told of it, and her niece, who is now Mrs. John Wood Stewart, became so enthusiastic over the idea that she persuaded some of her friends to join her in starting a similar organization.

In deference to Lady Wolverton, who originated the idea, she called this little band the Needlework Guild of America. This organization has now grown to a membership of approximately 600,000, and has branches all over the United States. In the first year of its existence the number of garments collected was 921, while in 1924, 1,213,755 were collected.

Objects of the Guild.

The object of The Needlework Guild of America, is as stated in its by-laws, to collect and distribute new, plain, suitable garments to meet the great need of hospitals, homes, and and other charities, and to extend its usefulness by the organization of branches. Special collections of garments may be taken at times of local, national or international disaster.

The only requirement for membership is the annual contribution of two or more new articles of wearing apparel or household linen, or a donation of money. Any man, woman or child may become a member. The organization is non-sectarian and members of any faith are welcomed.

That this is true not only in theiry but in fact is shown by a report from Minneapolis: "We have succeeded in enlisting the help of all creeds in nationalities as Guild contributors. We have a wonderful Jewish section, one of Swedish women, Norwegian, two Catholic sections, various churches, study clubs and philanthropic societies."

While it is specially stated that garments collected in the regular manner should not be sent to foreign countries, special collections are made for this purpose. For instance, at the outbreak of the European war in 1914 workrooms were established at Lyons, France. Later a War Relief department was opened in New York City for the purpose of aiding the needy of the allied countries.

The various branches of the guild took a particular interest in the people of St. Quentin, and many adopted orphens for whom they are still caring. Of course, in such cases it is necessary to obtain money, and one branch in Connecticut does this by giving a bridge party. Their friends like to come and enjoy themselves immensely. On one such occasion they were able without much effort to raise not only enough to readopt their particular French orphan, but an additional $25 which was used to help two needy St. Quentin families in whom they had formerly been interested. Thus the members of this branch combined an enjoyable social event with a good deed.

While money has always been a minor consideration with the Guild, no organization can be efficiently operated without funds. An executive office must be maintained, and money is necessary to defray certain expenses in connection with various conferences held for the purpose of stimulating interest in this guild and extending its activities. It was found that the contributions of the money-members—which number only one to every twenty-two garments—were insufficient to meet all these demands. Therefore a "Thank Offering" was established.

To this offering each branch is asked to contribute something—no matter how small the amount. It is not desired that the amount contributed work a hardship on any individual member. Various methods of raising this money have been contrived by the branches. Some held bazaars, the returns from which are used for this purpose. Some have rumage sales, others lawn parties, and still others bridge parties. One branch gave a large ball on which $300 was cleared. A portion of this was contributed to the Thank Offering. The rest was used for two purposes—to purchase materials out of which garments might be made, and as a donation to a shoe fund.

One of the most interesting phases of the work of the guild is its cooperation with Dr. Grenfell in his activities in Labrador. Dr. Grenfell is an English missionary physician who a number of years ago became much interested in the mariners of the North Sea. He has always maintained that it is important to improve the physical and economic conditions of these people before stressing the spiritual. He has devoted himself to this end, and through his efforts several hospitals, a series of cooperative stores, mills, and orphanage and a school have been built.

The Labrador branches of the guild reported that during the year 1923 they jointly contributed over 27,000 garments and articles of household linen. Because of the extremely cold climate of Labrador many heavier garments are needed than are usually contributed by guild members. Money has therefore been collected with which to purchase these.

Bed covering is another great need of the people of this far north country, and Dr. Grenfell recently requested that if possible the branches cooperating with him send blankets—thick or thin, old or new. He made the startling statement that some of these people have no blankets at all.

From a small group of energetic young women of Philadelphia in 1885, the guild has grown to a national organization affiliated with the Camp Fire Girls, the American Red Cross, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and other national associations. This is work where all can cooperate, met on the common ground of welfare service. It is a bond between peoples of differing creeds, nationalities and viewpoints. It is fuel beneath the melting pot.

Chinese living overseas send $200,000 annually to relatives and others at home.

Thought his case was hopeless
Resinol cleared away pimples in a week

Lexington, Mass., March 5:—"I had been suffering from shaving pimples on my neck for years and, I believe, had tried everything under the sun for them without avail. One day on a friend's advice, I purchased some of your Resinol Ointment and was astonished at the quick results. After a week's constant use, the pimples disappeared completely, leaving the skin clear and fresh. I had thought my case was hopeless, so you can readily see why I was overjoyed at this cure! You can be sure that henceforth you have one more loyal booster for your product." (Signed) Fred J. Fox, 8 Bloomfield St.

Too Big For Anyone to Miss!

Norma Talmadge in this stirring production rises to the pinnacle of dramatic art with the sheer inspiration of unfaultering genius. She lays bare the throbbing heart of a little dancing girl with such tender touches it brings a tear to every eye—the story of a girl who yearned to be a lady, and never realized what a wonderful Lady she was until someone looked into her heart.

After "Smilin' Through"; 'Secrets' and all the other big ones comes the supreme triumph of our Norma's career.

Norma Talmadge in Film of Stage Hit

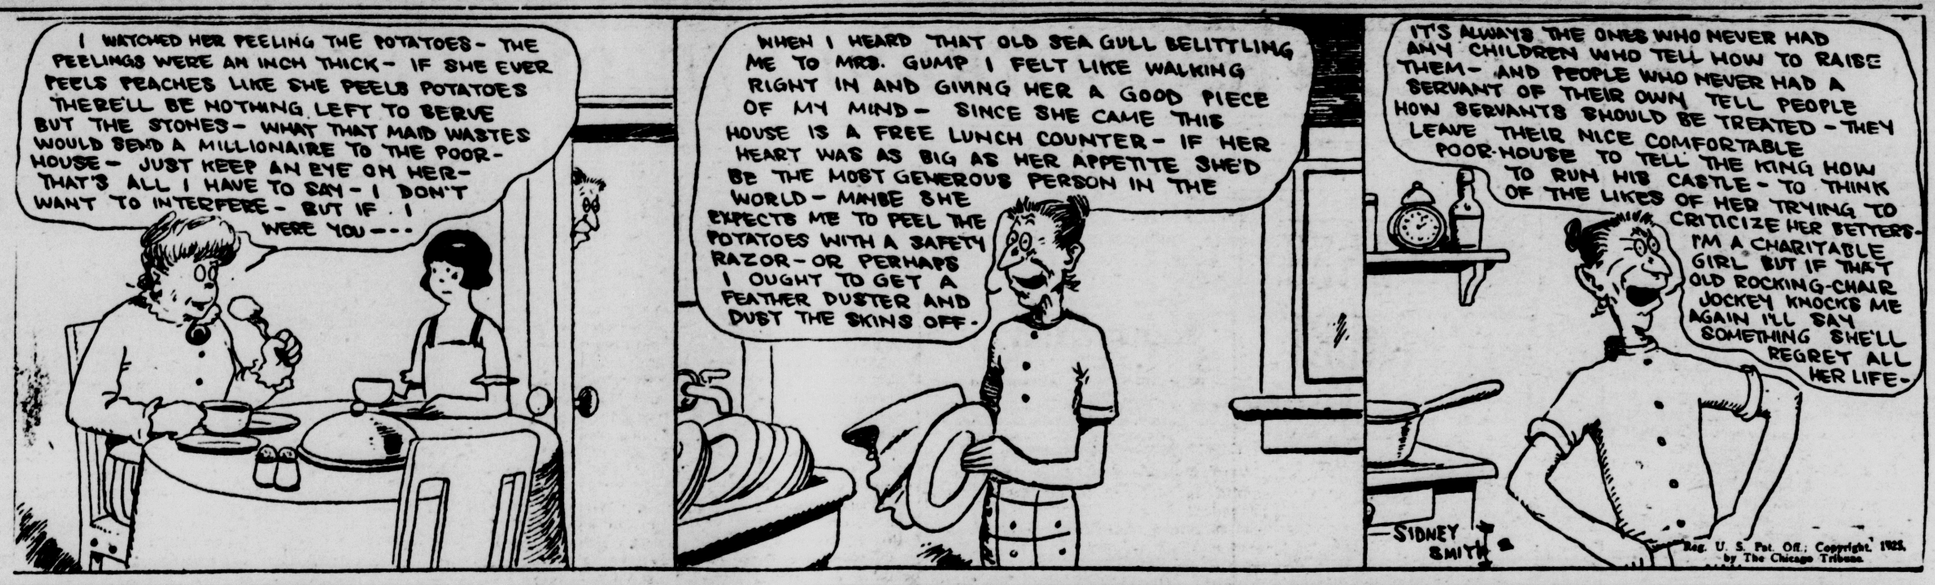

Norma Talmadge's latest photoplay, "The Lady," had a long run on the New York and London stages before it was purchased by Joseph M. Schenck for the screen. The stage play was written by Martin Brown. The locale of the picture covers London, Monte Carlo, the safe quarter of Marseilles and the seaport of Havre, France. Norma Talmadge plays the role of Polly Roll, a part taken by Mary Nash in the stage version. Wallace MacDonald is Norma's leading man.

MacDonald is the fifth leading man Norma Talmadge has had recently. Eugene O'Brien had that honor in "Secrets," and Norma's just completed photoplay, "The Only Woman;" Conway Tearle was in "Ashes of Vengeance," Joseph Schildkraut in "The Song of Love" and Jack Mulhall in "Within the Law."

MacDonald has recently appeared in "The Spoilers," "Thy Name Is Woman," "Maytime," "The Sea Hawk," "The Red Lily" and "We Are French."

LARGE MONUMENT AT LOCUST HILL

What is perhaps one of the largest monuments between Pittsburgh and Wheeling has been erected in Locust Hill cemetery by William Hazen Green of Newell in memory of his wife, Mrs. Emma Hazel Green. The stone, which was carved in Italy, weighs approximately ten tons and stands 13 feet eight inches. It was placed in position recently by Slater Bros. of Freedom, Pa.

Feature Patriotic Program.

Patriotic program was featured at the monthly meeting of the Sunbeam Mission band Friday afternoon in the Sunday school room of the First Presbyterian church. Miss Alice Riser presided.

Participate in Memorial Exercises.

STATE TRAFFIC OFFICERS BANNED

Traffic officers will soon be a thing of the past on the improved highways of West Virginia. The road commission has reached this decision, after experiencing great annoyance over arrests made by such officers. As fast as present appointees' terms expire, the positions will be left vacant.

Open Weirton Station.

Regional officials of the Pennsylvania system attended the formal opening of the new $50,000 station at Weirton last Thursday. The structure was afterwards opened to public inspection.

Work is being rushed on the new station at Follansbee.

School Board Session.

The Grant district school board will meet in the Newell school building Wednesday evening.

Bible Study Class Meeting.

Members of the Bible Study class of the First Methodist Episcopal church will meet tonight in the church parlors. Rev. J. W. Schrader will be in charge of the lesson.

AUTHOR ACCEPTS DEATH WHEN SHOWN PROOFS OF LIFE'S WORK

WALTHAM, Mass. — A reward that all men are not spared to receive—to have an aim in life and to actually see the fruits of years of labor before death—came to Alexander Starbuck, dean of Greater Boston newspapermen, who passed away at the age of 84 years.

News stories of the death of the editor did not tell of the drama enacted at the bedside a few short hours before the end.

Fifty years ago Alexander Starbuck wrote the first paragraph of a history of Nantucket Island, the place of his birth.

Chapter after chapter was added throughout the long years that followed. Innermost recesses of early American history were delved. The history was his supreme object in life. Recently he retired from active newspaper work to devote himself to concluding the work.

This year he wrote "finis" at the end of 700 pages. The book was sent to the printer. Then Starbuck was taken sick. He rapidly became worse.

In a voice just audible he gave his last wish—to see his book before he died.

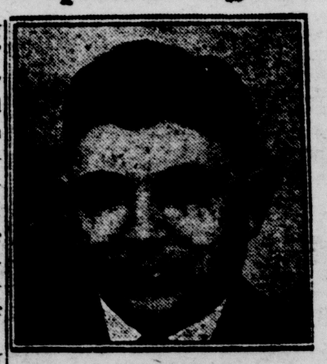

Messengers were rushed to the printer. The work of typesetting and printing was speeded. A courier hurried to the Starbuck death chamber with the first copy, still wet with ink.

The aged editor rose in his bed. He glanced over the pages. Then he smiled, sank back on his pillow—and death came.

Conquers Bad Breadth and is Popular Again

"The day I started taking Carter's Little Liver Pills," says Mr. John A. Perry of New York City, "my habitual bad breath and bad stomach stopped. I strongly recommend them to all those afflicted with these nasty troubles I assure you that my own case was a bad one, causing me untold embarrassment, and Carter's helped me right from the start."

Bad breath comes from sour stomach and can usually be relieved quickly by Carter's Little Liver Pills.

They are wonderful for constipation, sick-headache and indigestion and they physic the system in a mild and gentle manner, no bad after effects.

NEWS FROM TOWNS IN TRI-STATE DISTRICT

LISBON

M. K. Zimerman, West Park Ave. Phone 319-R. Lisbon, O.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVED HERE

Parade is Followed by Speaking in Opera House.

Children from the age of five years to veterans of the Civil war, aged 85 years, took part in the Memorial day prade in Lisbon Saturday afternoon. The children who marched to the Lisbon cemetery carried garlands to decorate the graves of the soldier dead.

The parade was headed by the Presbyterian band of Lisbon. All soldier organizations took part, including members of Starr Post G. A. R., Sons of Veterans, American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars and including the Women's Relief corps.

The memorial day address was delivered by the Rev. G. W. Beaver of St. Jacobs Reformed church, this service being held in Lisbon opera house. A crowd that filled the main auditorium attended this event.

Lisbon homes were more generously decorated with American flags than at any time since the community observed the signing of the Armistice.

Graves of the soldier dead in nearby country cemeteries were decorated Sunday.

ELIZABETH MINTO SUES FOR $7,000

Before the late Amanda Smith of Liverpool township died intestate Dec. 10, 1924, it is claimed in a petition filed in common pleas court by Attorney W. A. O'Grady of Wellsville, that she promised to pay Mary Elizabeth Minto for her care and keep during her illness.

As a result of this promise, Miss Minto has filed a claim for $7,000 against Leanore McKee of East Liverpool as administratrix of the estate of Amanda Smith.

Miss McKee in her petition relates that on May 12 last she presented the administratrix with a written statement of her claim and that on May 15 this claim was rejected and refused.

The petition relates that the plaintiff seeks the recovery, for her services, work, caring and nursing Amanda Smith $3,340 for 167 weeks at the rate of $20 per week and $3,660 for 244 weeks at the rate of $15 per week, or a total amount due for 411 weeks' services amounting to $7,000.

RULINGS HANDED DOWN BY COURT

Judgment by default has been rendered in the case of Lewis Bros. of East Liverpool against George B. M. Killmer filed recently in common pleas court. The plaintiff company obtained a judgment for $622.45 and plaintiff's costs and the court has ordered the foreclosure of a chattel mortgage.

The attachment case of Howard J. Kachner against Nicholas C. Falk has been settled at the costs of the plaintiff.

Leave to the defendants, Willis Shockley and Catherine Shockley to file an answer has been granted by the court in the case of the City Savings Bank & Trust company against Willis Shockley and others. In this action the plaintiff interest seeks the recovery of a claim for $1,163.79.

The case of the Brown Shoe company against Bernard Teitelbaum to recover a claim of $823.36 has been dismissed on the motion of the plaintiff and at their costs.

To Sell Farm Land.

Although trustees of St. Jacob's Reformed church of Center township were authorized by the congregation to sell certain of its farm land fronting on the Lisbon and Salem road, one of the trustees would not abide by the action of the congregation.

The other two trustees then filed a petition in court asking the permission of the court to sell five acres, and Judge James G. Moore has just granted the prayer of the petitioners.

Schreiber Speaks.

V. A. Schreiber, formerly or East Liverpool, but now in charge of the Canton district offices of the Anti Saloon League spoke at the evening service at the Lisbon United Presbyterion church of which the Rev. J. M. Cameron is pastor.

No Special Session.

Unless there are unforseen circumstances arising in the meantime, there will be no grand jury called until the opening of the next term of court. At this time there are very few cases awaiting investigation by the grand jury, and only two cases are now a matter of record, so far as the record of Sheriff George Wright disclose. Both of these actions are for auto thefts.

Auto Sale Bills Filed.

There were 1,030 automobile sale bills filed for record in the office of Clerk of Courts John T. Burns during May, the volume of business falling short about 50 registrations from the peak record of April. The receipts from this registration totaled $257.50, all of which goes to the credit of the county fees fund.

Many Divorce Actions.

Twenty actions for divorce were filed in common pleas court during May, which equals the record for April, when a similar number were filed. There were 65 new civil actions filed in the appearance docket during May, so that about one-third of the cases recorded were those petitioning for divorce. In one case alone, alimony only is asked.

DIVORCE CASES HEARD BY COURT

Six Decrees Issued by Judge Moore—One Action Passed.

After Hazel M. Libert of Salem filed an action for divorce against her husband, Lee Roy Libert, May 4, 1922, Libert joined the United States army. The petition for the plaintiff was filed by Attorney K. L. Coburn, and while a number of entries have been written into the record since that time, the action never came up for final hearing until now. The petition charged Libert with gross neglect of duty and the court on May 12, 1922, ordered Libert to pay his wife $25 within 10 days and then $5 per week there after until further order of court for the support of his minor child.

It was then Libert left Salem and drifted into the army. The court granted the decree prayed for, and also awarded the custody of the minor child to the mother.

Charging her husband with extreme cruelty, Florence Fisher has been granted a decree of divorce from her husband, Clinton Fisher. The defendant has been ordered by the court to pay his wife $6 per week for the support of a minor child. The action was filed Nov. 6, 1924.

In the divorce action filed for Carl A. Connor by Attorney G. Jay Clark against Nellis L. Connor, the original petition of the plaintiff has been withdrawn, and leave was given the defendant to file an answer through her counsel, Robert M. Brookes. This was done by her next friend, Charles H. Conkle. There was an immediate trial to the court, and a decree was awarded Mrs. Connor on the grounds of gross neglect of duty. The custody of the children was awarded the mother, and the court has ordered Connor to pay alimony as agreed upon.

Alice Burson, who has been granted a decree of divorce from her husband, Russell Burson, has been restored to her maiden name, Alice Fox. In her petition she alleged gross neglect of duty as a cause of action.

"Dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff as parties are now living together" reads the entry on the court calendar in the divorce case of Laura Spencer against Frank E. Spencer.

On the grounds of three years' willful absence, Jennie Booth has been granted a divorce from her husband, John M. Booth. This action was filed April 2, last.

The divorce case of George S. Hoffee against Mary B. Hoffee has been passed by the court at the costs of the defendant, and judgment rendered accordingly.

Property Transfers.

NEWS FROM TOWNS IN TRI-STATE DISTRICT

LISBON

M. K. Zimerman, West Park Ave.
Phone 319-R. Lisbon, O.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVED HERE

Parade is Followed by Speaking in Opera House.

Children from the age of five years to veterans of the Civil war, aged 85 years, took part in the Memorial day prade in Lisbon Saturday afternoon. The children who marched to the Lisbon cemetery carried garlands to decorate the graves of the soldier dead.

The parade was headed by the Presbyterian band of Lisbon. All soldier organizations took part, including members of Starr Post G. A. R., Sons of Veterans, American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars and including the Women's Relief corps.

The memorial day address was delivered by the Rev. G. W. Beaver of St. Jacobs Reformed church, this service being held in Lisbon opera house. A crowd that filled the main auditorium attended this event.

Lisbon homes were more generously decorated with American flags than at any time since the community observed the signing of the Armistice.

Graves of the soldier dead in nearby country cemeteries were decorated Sunday.

ELIZABETH MINTO SUES FOR $7,000

Before the late Amanda Smith of Liverpool township died intestate Dec. 10, 1924, it is claimed in a petition filed in common pleas court by Attorney W. A. O'Grady of Wellsville, that she promised to pay Mary Elizabeth Minto for her care and keep during her illness.

As a result of this promise, Miss Minto has filed a claim for $7,000 against Leanore McKee of East Liverpool as administratrix of the estate of Amanda Smith.

Miss McKee in her petition relates that on May 12 last she presented the administratrix with a written statement of her claim and that on May 15 this claim was rejected and refused.

The petition relates that the plaintiff seeks the recovery, for her services, work, caring and nursing Amanda Smith $3,340 for 167 weeks at the rate of $20 per week and $3,660 for 244 weeks at the rate of $15 per week, or a total amount due for 411 weeks' services amounting to $7,000.

RULINGS HANDED DOWN BY COURT

Judgment by default has been rendered in the case of Lewis Bros. of East Liverpool against George B. M. Killmer filed recently in common pleas court. The plaintiff company obtained a judgment for $622.45 and plaintiff's costs and the court has ordered the foreclosure of a chattel mortgage.

The attachment case of Howard J. Kachner against Nicholas C. Falk has been settled at the costs of the plaintiff.

Leave to the defendants, Willis Shockley and Catherine Shockley to file an answer has been granted by the court in the case of the City Savings Bank & Trust company against Willis Shockley and others. In this action the plaintiff interest seeks the recovery of a claim for $1,163.79.

The case of the Brown Shoe company against Bernard Teitelbaum to recover a claim of $823.36 has been dismissed on the motion of the plaintiff and at their costs.

To Sell Farm Land.

Although trustees of St. Jacob's Reformed church of Center township were authorized by the congregation to sell certain of its farm land fronting on the Lisbon and Salem road, one of the trustees would not abide by the action of the congregation.

The other two trustees then filed a petition in court asking the permission of the court to sell five acres, and Judge James G. Moore has just granted the prayer of the petitioners.

Schreiber Speaks.

V. A. Schreiber, formerly or East Liverpool, but now in charge of the Canton district offices of the Anti Saloon League spoke at the evening service at the Lisbon United Presbyterion church of which the Rev. J. M. Cameron is pastor.

No Special Session.

Unless there are unforseen circumstances arising in the meantime, there will be no grand jury called until the opening of the next term of court. At this time there are very few cases awaiting investigation by the grand jury, and only two cases are now a matter of record, so far as the record of Sheriff George Wright disclose. Both of these actions are for auto thefts.

Auto Sale Bills Filed.

There were 1,030 automobile sale bills filed for record in the office of Clerk of Courts John T. Burns during May, the volume of business falling short about 50 registrations from the peak record of April. The receipts from this registration totaled $257.50, all of which goes to the credit of the county fees fund.

Many Divorce Actions.

Twenty actions for divorce were filed in common pleas court during May, which equals the record for April, when a similar number were filed. There were 65 new civil actions filed in the appearance docket during May, so that about one-third of the cases recorded were those petitioning for divorce. In one case alone, alimony only is asked.

DIVORCE CASES HEARD BY COURT

Six Decrees Issued by Judge Moore—One Action Passed.

After Hazel M. Libert of Salem filed an action for divorce against her husband, Lee Roy Libert, May 4, 1922, Libert joined the United States army. The petition for the plaintiff was filed by Attorney K. L. Coburn, and while a number of entries have been written into the record since that time, the action never came up for final hearing until now. The petition charged Libert with gross neglect of duty and the court on May 12, 1922, ordered Libert to pay his wife $25 within 10 days and then $5 per week there after until further order of court for the support of his minor child.

It was then Libert left Salem and drifted into the army. The court granted the decree prayed for, and also awarded the custody of the minor child to the mother.

Charging her husband with extreme cruelty, Florence Fisher has been granted a decree of divorce from her husband, Clinton Fisher. The defendant has been ordered by the court to pay his wife $6 per week for the support of a minor child. The action was filed Nov. 6, 1924.

In the divorce action filed for Carl A. Connor by Attorney G. Jay Clark against Nellis L. Connor, the original petition of the plaintiff has been withdrawn, and leave was given the defendant to file an answer through her counsel, Robert M. Brookes. This was done by her next friend, Charles H. Conkle. There was an immediate trial to the court, and a decree was awarded Mrs. Connor on the grounds of gross neglect of duty. The custody of the children was awarded the mother, and the court has ordered Connor to pay alimony as agreed upon.

Alice Burson, who has been granted a decree of divorce from her husband, Russell Burson, has been restored to her maiden name, Alice Fox. In her petition she alleged gross neglect of duty as a cause of action.

"Dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff as parties are now living together" reads the entry on the court calendar in the divorce case of Laura Spencer against Frank E. Spencer.

On the grounds of three years' willful absence, Jennie Booth has been granted a divorce from her husband, John M. Booth. This action was filed April 2, last.

The divorce case of George S. Hoffee against Mary B. Hoffee has been passed by the court at the costs of the defendant, and judgment rendered accordingly.

Tie Scores Mark Top Cards In Country Club Golf Events

Four 39's In Mixed Foursome; Six Lead In Blind Handicap

Rivals in Four-player Tourney Will Compete Again for Supremacy; Net 82's are Turned in by Half-dozen Leaders in Blind Handicap for W. E. Wells, Jr. Trophy.

Keen competition, productive of exceptional golf from start to finish, marked the opening day program Saturday at the East Liverpool Country club, with the efforts of the contending performers being directed upon three events—the mixed Scotch foursome, the blind handicap tournament and the United States Golf association greens committee play.

A total of 10 tie scores were recorded in the foursome and blind handicap, four in the former and six in the latter. "Thirty-nines" were turned in as net scores by four couples in the two-ball play and cards of 82 were reported by an even half-dozen handicap rivals.

The top cards follow:

Mixed Foursome.

C. A. Bough and Mrs. T. S. Brush—gross 53, net 39.

C. H. Walker and Mrs. J. B. McDonald—gross 54, net 39.

M. W. Thompson and Mrs. A. L. White—gross 54, net 39.

H. J. Taylor and Mrs. J. D. Comstock—gross 54, net 39.

Blind Handicap.

F. B. Lawrence—gross 105, handicap 23, net 82.

J. S. Hilbert—gross 106, handicap 24, net 82.

Dr. Samuel Reich—gross 108, handicap 26, net 82.

J. Rinehart—gross 108, handicap 26, net 82.

W. A. Betz—gross 87, handicap 5, net 82.

Dr. A. C. Frost—gross 92, handicap 12, net 82.

The sports committee, it was announced today, has left the problem of ultimately determining winners in the two events to the contenders themselves.

There will be play-offs in the foursome, it is probable, at dates decided upon by the various groups.

Final rankings in the U. S. G. A. greens committee play are being computed by the sports committee.

DE PAOLO TO BE ALTOONA ENTRY

Indianapolis 500-Mile Winner Seeks More Glory.

ALTOONA, Pa., June 1. — Four of the world's fastest automobiles, piloted by drivers of international renown, have just been added to the entry list of the June 13 classic here at the Altoona speedway by Fred Duesenberg, widely known sportsman and automotive engineer.

Three drivers of the four-car team have been already named. These are Peter DePaolo, winner of the Indianapolis 500-mile race, and the illustrious nephew of the famous Ralph DePalma, Phil Shaffer, one of the most sensational drivers of the roaring road, and Pete Kries, whose rapid climb to the heights of renwon in racing has been one of the remarkable events of the year.

With these three premier pilots selected and announced by the famous sportsman owner of the cars, keen interest has been arounsed in racing circles over the man who will be chosen for the fourth car. The wheel of one of these super-speed mounts is one of the most coveted in motordom as the late Joe Boyer won last year's Indianapolis contest with one of these machine.

Receiving their most rigid test for strength and endurance at the Memorial day classic at Indianapolis, where the speed average will be about 100 miles an hour, the four racing cars will be completely dismantled and overhauled within a few days, then shipped by special express to Altoona ready for the preliminary tuning trials, which will start June 2.

All of the fast entries will pass the qualifying lap tests, conducted by Fred J. Wagner, internationally known starter, at a speed predicted around 130 miles an hour, with the average for the long, 250-mile grind forecast at above 120 miles an hour.

Every inch of the huge mile-and-a-quarter board oval has been rigidly inspected and the special crews of steel workers are rushing the completion of the heavy steel band at the outer rim, required by the A. A. A. contest board as a further precaution to keep wrecked cars from dashing over the top of the steep curves to crash to the ground, 40 feet below.

40,000 FANS SEE BERLENBACH WIN

NEW YORK, June 1. — Unofficial figures made public today showed that upward of 40,000 fans paid approximately $172,655 to see the milk fund bouts, in which Mike McTigue was deprived of the world's light heavyweight title by Paul Berlenbach. According to present calculations, the net proceeds will amount to about $65,000, which will be turned over to the fund.

Tagging The Bases

Dazzy Vance fanned 13 Giants but overlooked Meusel in the sixth and Terry in the ninth, this being extremely ill-advised. Meusel singled home the first run and Terry produced the second with a homer, the Dodgers finished second, 2 to 0. Scott didn't fan them but he wouldn't let them score.

The Tigers' four-run rally in the ninth came too late, the Indians just lasting to the wire to win, 6 to 4.

Making merry with the deliveries of Kremer and Sheehan, the Cubs socked their way to an 11 to 2 decision over the Pirates, Hartnett getting a double, triple and homer, his fourteenth of the season.

The Yanks postponed their daily defeat until the twelfth, but class will tell. The Red Sox finally got to Shawkey for three runs and the decision, 9 to 6.

Manager Harris made a personal matter of putting an end to the Athletics' rampage with a single off Bryan, Harris in the ninth, the Senators winning, 4 to 3. Simmons kept the Athletics in the hunt with a triple and homer.

Robertson, Thurston and Blankenship held the Browns to 23 well scattered hits, but the White Sox lost, 15 to 11. Four homers contributed to the carnage, while Sisler got five hits.

The fans presented Hornsby with floral pieces at his managerial debut and the Cards presented him with a ball game, beating the Reds, 5 to 2, thanks to the excellent pitching of Rhem.

GIBBONS BACK AT TRAINING

Will "Taper Off" at Coney Island for Tunney Scrap.

NEW YORK, June 1. — Tom Gibbons, co-principal with Gene Tunney in a 15-round bout at the Polo grounds on Friday, was scheduled to resume his training this afternoon at Coney Island. Gibbons, having completed most of his preparations at Atlantic City, will taper off in his work here for the remaining days before the bout.

Tunney, in training at White Sulphur Springs, N. Y., has been installed a popular favorite to win the decision.

Tigers' Rally Fails.

DETROIT, June 1.—A ninth inning rally that brought in four runs too late to do any good and Detroit bowed to Cleveland, 6 to 4, in the last game of a three-game series. After pitching shut-out ball for eight innings Uhle had to be taken out and Miller got the last two Tigers.

Vance Fans 13 Giants.

BROOKLYN, June 1.—Dazzy Vance struck out 13 Giants and allowed them only five hits, but Brooklyn lost, 2 to 0. In the sixth inning a pass to Young, a passed ball and Meusel's single gave New York a tally that would have won the game, but Terry made victory certain with a home run in the ninth inning.

Red Sox Topple Yanks.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The Red Sox defeated the Yankees, 9 to 6, after a 12-inning battle. Vache's double, Todt's walk and single by Wambsganss and Connolly breaking a deadlock.

Shawkey relieved Ferguson in the box in the third and went along until the twelfth when he weakened. Zahnizer was succeeded by Quinn after the fifth.

Cards Win for Hornsby.

ST. LOUIS, June 1.—Playing their first game under the direction of their new manager, Rogers Hornsby, the Cardinals scored a victory over the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 2, in the first game of the series.

Pirates Get Drubbing.

CHICAGO, June 1.—Chicago batted two Pittsburgh pitchers, Kremer and Sheehan, unmercifully and won, 11 to 2. Hartnett his his 14th home run in the eighth inning, and also hit a double and a triple. Moore's homer with one on accounted for the Pirate tallies.

Sisler Gets Five Hits.

CHICAGO, June 1. — St. Louis defeated Chicago, 15 to 11, in a slugging match pounding out 23 hits for a total of 40 bases. The assault included four home runs, George Sisler leading the attack with five hits including a home run and a triple. C. Robertson and Hollis Thurston were driven off the hill. The Sox hit Wingard hard, also Davis, combing four blows, which included two triples and a double.

Nats Beat Senators.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The Senators defeated the Philadelphia Athletics in a close game, 4 to 3, Bucky Harris driving in the winning run in the ninth inning after the champions had loaded the bases with none out.

The batting of Simmons, Athletic center fielder, who knocked out a home run, featured.

Fans Will See Younger and Cleaner Looking Ruth.

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, June 1.—No longer an ex-brewer about the waistline nor a piano mover at the shoulders, our Mr. Ruth will resume the business of baseball this afternoon after seven weeks in the hospital and seven days on the beach. He will play right field for the Yankees against the champion Senators, and all New York, perforce, will be looking for an exhibition of parlor magic that will transform the Yankees from a rabbit into a rattlesnake.

It probably will not be for Ruth is not the man he will be later in the season. He s ill is weak and underweight and cannot take the old toe hold at the plate and get away with it. The doctors only acceded to Ruth's demand that he be allowed to play in order to be rid of his querulous pleas for action. His return, in fact, is two weeks ahead of schedule and whether his premature appearance will cause a reaction later remains to be seen.

The fans will see a young and cleaner looking Ruth than has been their privilege for ten years. His succession of illness, culminating in his collapse at Asheville, N. C., on April 7, seemingly has had the effect of improving his general condition merely at the expense of eight weeks absence from the Yankees. Barring further complications, at least several years of activity have been added to Ruth's career as a result of the care and attention he has received.

Many blame the present position of the Yankees—a game and half out of last place—on Ruth's absence; others contend that time, the great leveler, has been the abiding factor, probably it has been a little bit of both.

The Yankees, in any case, are almost definitely out of the race and anything Ruth does for them must be for the better. The writer will be surprised if he hits the size of his collar for a week or more.

He will have one thing in his favor for the first time in years. Ruth will not be shooting at a home run record. He has given up all hope of bettering the mark this season and can approach the plate, fancy free, with nothing on his mind but a sunshade.

Perhaps this will send the great man off to a winning start and he may need one. He will replace Paschal, a man hitting over .400 and comparisons might prove more than odious if Ruth fails to hit them quick and often.

LAY PLANS FOR ANNUAL MEET

County Sportsmen to Frolic at Guilford Park.

At a meeting of the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective association, scheduled to be held in common pleas court No. 2 Monday night, it is proposed to select the date for the annual field meet.

The field meet this year will be held at Guilford state park. The plan of the executive committee of the county organization is to have sportsmen from Summit, Stark and Mahoning counties to join with Columbiana county this year.

15 INJURED IN "TIN CAN" RACE

Accidents Mar $50-Auto Sweepstakes in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, June 1.—Fifteen persons were in hospitals here today, two of them seriously injured as a result of an accident that marred the running of the "what price glory" sweepstakes at the Maple Heights race track. The accident occurred when the driver of "What Price Glory," in whose honor the sweepstakes, limited to automobiles for which the owner willing to accept $50, were run, lost control of his car in the semi-finals, and ploughed into a crowd of spectators. Thirteen were hurt, the most seriously injured being Joseph Andrews, 35, of Cleveland, and James H. Little, 68, of Altoona, Pa.

Two others were hurt as a result of a traffic jam as the thousands of spectators were leaving the track.

Newell Drops Double Bill At Salineville

Afternoon Clash Develops Hurlers Battle Between Bucher and Mays.

Barney Bricelin's Newell Independents were forced to bow twice to defeat Saturday at Salineville. The score of the morning encounter was 10-3, while that of the afternoon was 3-2. Although forced to tackle the Salineville outfit with a patched lineup, the Newellites dished up a pretty good article of baseball, especially in the afternoon fray, which developed into a pitchers' battle betwen Joe Bucher, Newell twirler, and Mays for the Miners. In this game the fans witnessed some fast playing, with both teams registering. Billy Watson, 15-year-old-kid pitcher, who went to the mound for Bricelin, in the forenoon's fracas, performed creditably in holding Salineville to 8 hits and 6 runs, four of the runs being earned off him. After being hit on his pitching hand by a fast ball, Watson was relieved by Bailey, recruit twirler, who permitted 4 runs and 5 hits, and fanned four men in the two innings he worked. Both Bucher and Mays, in their games, performed in masterful style, Bucher fanning 8 and allowing 3 runs and 5 hits, and Mays permitting 2 runs and 6 hits and fanning 10. The box score, however, does not do full justice to Bucher's work, inas much as a home run which scored another man ahead, was registered when Aufderheide, Newell left-fielder, misjudged Marrow's line drive in the second frame, the hit going for the circuit. Aufderheide's and Finley's playing featured the afternoon game.

TROTTERS LOSE FAST CONTEST TO K. T. K. NINE

Stoffel Holds Foes to Six Hits; Score is 4 to 2.

Unable to hit Pitcher Stoffel until the final inning of play Trotters lost to the K. T. K. team in a fast City Industrial league game at Patterson field, 4 to 2, Friday evening.

Stoffel allowed but one bingle until the fifth when R. Pollock opened with a double. In the seventh, however, as dusk fell four safeties and a sacrifice fly gave his opponents two runs and prevented their blanking.

Barr started to pitch for Trotter and turned back the potters for two innings without a run. In the third Herbert muffed McShane's fly. The latter stole second, Shaw singled and purloined the keystone corner. Finley walked, filling the bases which were quickly cleared by Simcox, who made a home run to center field, the ball, hard hit, bounding over A. Bayley's head and enabling the swatter to finish handily.

R. Pollock then mounted the hilltop and Barr went to right field. The southpaw allowed but two, a single and a double in the fourth and prevented all scoring thereafter. He used speed, constantly, it being very effective in the growing darkness.

Barr also allowed but two hits, but gave four passes. Stoffel and R. Pollock walked no one.

Both teams played smart ball, the players according fine support, the errors made save in one instance, not being costly.

Umpire Allison was struck on the shoulder by a foul tip in the fifth inning and was hurried up town to have his injuries dressed. Barney Bricelin, Laughlin manager, took his place during the remainder of the contest.

Tie Scores Mark Top Cards In Country Club Golf Events

Four 39's In Mixed Foursome; Six Lead In Blind Handicap

Rivals in Four-player Tourney Will Compete Again for Supremacy; Net 82's are Turned in by Half-dozen Leaders in Blind Handicap for W. E. Wells, Jr. Trophy.

Keen competition, productive of exceptional golf from start to finish, marked the opening day program Saturday at the East Liverpool Country club, with the efforts of the contending performers being directed upon three events—the mixed Scotch foursome, the blind handicap tournament and the United States Golf association greens committee play.

A total of 10 tie scores were recorded in the foursome and blind handicap, four in the former and six in the latter. "Thirty-nines" were turned in as net scores by four couples in the two-ball play and cards of 82 were reported by an even half-dozen handicap rivals.

The top cards follow:

Mixed Foursome.

C. A. Bough and Mrs. T. S. Brush—gross 53, net 39.

C. H. Walker and Mrs. J. B. McDonald—gross 54, net 39.

M. W. Thompson and Mrs. A. L. White—gross 54, net 39.

H. J. Taylor and Mrs. J. D. Comstock—gross 54, net 39.

Blind Handicap.

F. B. Lawrence—gross 105, handicap 23, net 82.

J. S. Hilbert—gross 106, handicap 24, net 82.

Dr. Samuel Reich—gross 108, handicap 26, net 82.

J. Rinehart—gross 108, handicap 26, net 82.

W. A. Betz—gross 87, handicap 5, net 82.

Dr. A. C. Frost—gross 92, handicap 12, net 82.

The sports committee, it was announced today, has left the problem of ultimately determining winners in the two events to the contenders themselves.

There will be play-offs in the foursome, it is probable, at dates decided upon by the various groups.

Final rankings in the U. S. G. A. greens committee play are being computed by the sports committee.

DE PAOLO TO BE ALTOONA ENTRY

Indianapolis 500-Mile Winner Seeks More Glory.

ALTOONA, Pa., June 1. — Four of the world's fastest automobiles, piloted by drivers of international renown, have just been added to the entry list of the June 13 classic here at the Altoona speedway by Fred Duesenberg, widely known sportsman and automotive engineer.

Three drivers of the four-car team have been already named. These are Peter DePaolo, winner of the Indianapolis 500-mile race, and the illustrious nephew of the famous Ralph DePalma, Phil Shaffer, one of the most sensational drivers of the roaring road, and Pete Kries, whose rapid climb to the heights of renwon in racing has been one of the remarkable events of the year.

With these three premier pilots selected and announced by the famous sportsman owner of the cars, keen interest has been arounsed in racing circles over the man who will be chosen for the fourth car. The wheel of one of these super-speed mounts is one of the most coveted in motordom as the late Joe Boyer won last year's Indianapolis contest with one of these machine.

Receiving their most rigid test for strength and endurance at the Memorial day classic at Indianapolis, where the speed average will be about 100 miles an hour, the four racing cars will be completely dismantled and overhauled within a few days, then shipped by special express to Altoona ready for the preliminary tuning trials, which will start June 2.

All of the fast entries will pass the qualifying lap tests, conducted by Fred J. Wagner, internationally known starter, at a speed predicted around 130 miles an hour, with the average for the long, 250-mile grind forecast at above 120 miles an hour.

Every inch of the huge mile-and-a-quarter board oval has been rigidly inspected and the special crews of steel workers are rushing the completion of the heavy steel band at the outer rim, required by the A. A. A. contest board as a further precaution to keep wrecked cars from dashing over the top of the steep curves to crash to the ground, 40 feet below.

40,000 FANS SEE BERLENBACH WIN

NEW YORK, June 1. — Unofficial figures made public today showed that upward of 40,000 fans paid approximately $172,655 to see the milk fund bouts, in which Mike McTigue was deprived of the world's light heavyweight title by Paul Berlenbach. According to present calculations, the net proceeds will amount to about $65,000, which will be turned over to the fund.

The Yanks postponed their daily defeat until the twelfth, but class will tell. The Red Sox finally got to Shawkey for three runs and the decision, 9 to 6.

Manager Harris made a personal matter of putting an end to the Athletics' rampage with a single off Bryan, Harris in the ninth, the Senators winning, 4 to 3. Simmons kept the Athletics in the hunt with a triple and homer.

Robertson, Thurston and Blankenship held the Browns to 23 well scattered hits, but the White Sox lost, 15 to 11. Four homers contributed to the carnage, while Sisler got five hits.

The fans presented Hornsby with floral pieces at his managerial debut and the Cards presented him with a ball game, beating the Reds, 5 to 2, thanks to the excellent pitching of Rhem.

GIBBONS BACK AT TRAINING

Will "Taper Off" at Coney Island for Tunney Scrap.

NEW YORK, June 1. — Tom Gibbons, co-principal with Gene Tunney in a 15-round bout at the Polo grounds on Friday, was scheduled to resume his training this afternoon at Coney Island. Gibbons, having completed most of his preparations at Atlantic City, will taper off in his work here for the remaining days before the bout.

Tunney, in training at White Sulphur Springs, N. Y., has been installed a popular favorite to win the decision.

Tigers' Rally Fails.

DETROIT, June 1.—A ninth inning rally that brought in four runs too late to do any good and Detroit bowed to Cleveland, 6 to 4, in the last game of a three-game series. After pitching shut-out ball for eight innings Uhle had to be taken out and Miller got the last two Tigers.

Vance Fans 13 Giants.

BROOKLYN, June 1.—Dazzy Vance struck out 13 Giants and allowed them only five hits, but Brooklyn lost, 2 to 0. In the sixth inning a pass to Young, a passed ball and Meusel's single gave New York a tally that would have won the game, but Terry made victory certain with a home run in the ninth inning.

Red Sox Topple Yanks.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The Red Sox defeated the Yankees, 9 to 6, after a 12-inning battle. Vache's double, Todt's walk and single by Wambsganss and Connolly breaking a deadlock.

Shawkey relieved Ferguson in the box in the third and went along until the twelfth when he weakened. Zahnizer was succeeded by Quinn after the fifth.

Cards Win for Hornsby.

ST. LOUIS, June 1.—Playing their first game under the direction of their new manager, Rogers Hornsby, the Cardinals scored a victory over the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 2, in the first game of the series.

Pirates Get Drubbing.

CHICAGO, June 1.—Chicago batted two Pittsburgh pitchers, Kremer and Sheehan, unmercifully and won, 11 to 2. Hartnett his his 14th home run in the eighth inning, and also hit a double and a triple. Moore's homer with one on accounted for the Pirate tallies.

Sisler Gets Five Hits.

CHICAGO, June 1. — St. Louis defeated Chicago, 15 to 11, in a slugging match pounding out 23 hits for a total of 40 bases. The assault included four home runs, George Sisler leading the attack with five hits including a home run and a triple. C. Robertson and Hollis Thurston were driven off the hill. The Sox hit Wingard hard, also Davis, combing four blows, which included two triples and a double.

Nats Beat Senators.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The Senators defeated the Philadelphia Athletics in a close game, 4 to 3, Bucky Harris driving in the winning run in the ninth inning after the champions had loaded the bases with none out.

The batting of Simmons, Athletic center fielder, who knocked out a home run, featured.

Fans Will See Younger and Cleaner Looking Ruth.

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, June 1.—No longer an ex-brewer about the waistline nor a piano mover at the shoulders, our Mr. Ruth will resume the business of baseball this afternoon after seven weeks in the hospital and seven days on the beach. He will play right field for the Yankees against the champion Senators, and all New York, perforce, will be looking for an exhibition of parlor magic that will transform the Yankees from a rabbit into a rattlesnake.

It probably will not be for Ruth is not the man he will be later in the season. He still is weak and underweight and cannot take the old toe hold at the plate and get away with it. The doctors only acceded to Ruth's demand that he be allowed to play in order to be rid of his querulous pleas for action. His return, in fact, is two weeks ahead of schedule and whether his premature appearance will cause a reaction later remains to be seen.

The fans will see a young and cleaner looking Ruth than has been their privilege for ten years. His succession of illness, culminating in his collapse at Asheville, N. C., on April 7, seemingly has had the effect of improving his general condition merely at the expense of eight weeks absence from the Yankees. Barring further complications, at least several years of activity have been added to Ruth's career as a result of the care and attention he has received.

Many blame the present position of the Yankees—a game and half out of last place—on Ruth's absence; others contend that time, the great leveler, has been the abiding factor, probably it has been a little bit of both.

The Yankees, in any case, are almost definitely out of the race and anything Ruth does for them must be for the better. The writer will be surprised if he hits the size of his collar for a week or more.

He will have one thing in his favor for the first time in years. Ruth will not be shooting at a home run record. He has given up all hope of bettering the mark this season and can approach the plate, fancy free, with nothing on his mind but a sunshade.

Perhaps this will send the great man off to a winning start and he may need one. He will replace Paschal, a man hitting over .400 and comparisons might prove more than odious if Ruth fails to hit them quick and often.

LAY PLANS FOR ANNUAL MEET

County Sportsmen to Frolic at Guilford Park.

At a meeting of the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective association, scheduled to be held in common pleas court No. 2 Monday night, it is proposed to select the date for the annual field meet.

The field meet this year will be held at Guilford state park. The plan of the executive committee of the county organization is to have sportsmen from Summit, Stark and Mahoning counties to join with Columbiana county this year.

15 INJURED IN "TIN CAN" RACE

Accidents Mar $50-Auto Sweepstakes in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, June 1.—Fifteen persons were in hospitals here today, two of them seriously injured as a result of an accident that marred the running of the "what price glory" sweepstakes at the Maple Heights race track. The accident occurred when the driver of "What Price Glory," in whose honor the sweepstakes, limited to automobiles for which the owner willing to accept $50, were run, lost control of his car in the semi-finals, and ploughed into a crowd of spectators. Thirteen were hurt, the most seriously injured being Joseph Andrews, 35, of Cleveland, and James H. Little, 68, of Altoona, Pa.

Two others were hurt as a result of a traffic jam as the thousands of spectators were leaving the track.

Newell Drops Double Bill At Salineville

Afternoon Clash Develops Hurlers Battle Between Bucher and Mays.

Barney Bricelin's Newell Independents were forced to bow twice to defeat Saturday at Salineville. The score of the morning encounter was 10-3, while that of the afternoon was 3-2. Although forced to tackle the Salineville outfit with a patched lineup, the Newellites dished up a pretty good article of baseball, especially in the afternoon fray, which developed into a pitchers' battle betwen Joe Bucher, Newell twirler, and Mays for the Miners. In this game the fans witnessed some fast playing, with both teams registering. Billy Watson, 15-year-old-kid pitcher, who went to the mound for Bricelin, in the forenoon's fracas, performed creditably in holding Salineville to 8 hits and 6 runs, four of the runs being earned off him. After being hit on his pitching hand by a fast ball, Watson was relieved by Bailey, recruit twirler, who permitted 4 runs and 5 hits, and fanned four men in the two innings he worked. Both Bucher and Mays, in their games, performed in masterful style, Bucher fanning 8 and allowing 3 runs and 5 hits, and Mays permitting 2 runs and 6 hits and fanning 10. The box score, however, does not do full justice to Bucher's work, inasmuch as a home run which scored another man ahead, was registered when Aufderheide, Newell left-fielder, misjudged Marrow's line drive in the second frame, the hit going for the circuit. Aufderheide's and Finley's playing featured the afternoon game.

TROTTERS LOSE FAST CONTEST TO K. T. K. NINE

Stoffel Holds Foes to Six Hits; Score is 4 to 2.

Unable to hit Pitcher Stoffel until the final inning of play Trotters lost to the K. T. K. team in a fast City Industrial league game at Patterson field, 4 to 2, Friday evening.

Stoffel allowed but one bingle until the fifth when R. Pollock opened with a double. In the seventh, however, as dusk fell four safeties and a sacrifice fly gave his opponents two runs and prevented their blanking.

Barr started to pitch for Trotter and turned back the potters for two innings without a run. In the third Herbert muffed McShane's fly. The latter stole second. Shaw singled and purloined the keystone corner. Finley walked, filling the bases which were quickly cleared by Simcox, who made a home run to center field, the ball, hard hit, bounding over A. Bayley's head and enabling the swatter to finish handily.

R. Pollock then mounted the hilltop and Barr went to right field. The southpaw allowed but two, a single and a double in the fourth and prevented all scoring thereafter. He used speed, constantly, it being very effective in the growing darkness.

Barr also allowed but two hits, but gave four passes. Stoffel and R. Pollock walked no one.

Both teams played smart ball, the players according fine support, the errors made save in one instance, not being costly.

FILM CLASSIC AT CERAMIC

"Where North Begins" Termed Extraordinary Photoplay.

A pack of wild wolves suddenly appearing in a motion picture camp in northern California spread consternation and caused a stampede recently when screen actors faced the prospect of making a fine meal for the famished animals.

The producing company had gone into the wild Feather River country, in Plumas county, California, a rugged area of snow wilderness and pines, to film scenes for "Where the North Begins," the photoplay starring Rintintin, the clever police dog. This region is rarely visited by man.

The wolves were suddenly discovered stalking around the camp, drawn by the scent of food. The dogs employed to convoy the sleds set up a furious barking, giving warning in time. Pat Hartigan and Walter McGrail, two of the actors, who are crack riflemen, lost no time, and a few well-directed shots cost the lives of the more forward of the pack and dispersed the remainder. The pelts now adorn their studios as mementoes of the pisode.

"Where the North Begins," is the story of a dog dwelling with a pack of wolves, and suddenly recalling his real descent as he attacks Gabriel Dupre, a trapper left for dead by a gang of outlaws. Gabriel is the victim of a plot at the hands of Shad Galloway, the factor of the Hudson post, to get him out of the way so that Felice McTavish will be defenceless. The wolf-dog becomes friendly and is instrumental in saving the girl at a critical point, and demonstrating to Galloway that even a strong-arm man must yield to superior brute strength.

Don't Be in a Hurry.
Napoleon Waited Seven Years.
You Can Wait Six.
From Graveyard Lands.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

There are many young men on earth who fail because they lack ambition and determination to advance. There are many more whose trouble is hasty ambition. They fail to realize their present chances in their hurried reaching out for something better. You may see in any club, poolroom or other resort for wasting times, crowds of young men smoking and deploring their lack of success.

"I've been working three years at the same job and the same salary," one will say, "and I don't see what chance I have for getting ahead."

The young man who talks in this way does not realize that success depends on developing the qualities which are in him. He can develop them if he will, no matter what his place in the world. Once he is ready to do good work, once he is developed, the work will find him out.

When Napoleon Bonaparte was resting from his labors at St. Helena, he used to tell this story:

"One day on parade a young lieutenant stepped out of the ranks, much excited, to appeal to me personally. He said to me that he had been a lieutenant for five years and had not been able to advance in rank. I said to him, 'Calm yourself, I was seven years a lieutenant, and yet you see that a man may push himself forward, for all that.'"

Napoleon, when he preached this lesson to the young, dissatisfied officer, was a self-made emperor of the French and of a great many other nations. He had come to Paris a thin, hollow-cheeked, under-sized boy from the conquered and despised island of Corsica. He stuck in the humble grade of lieutenant for several years. When the time came he blossomed out.

When he was lieutenant, he was developing himself. He studied and mastered the art of war. He wrote the history of Corsica, and no one would publish it. He wrote a drama, which was never acted. He wrote a prize essay for the Academy of Lyons, and did not win the prize. On the contrary, his effort was condemned as incoherent and poor in style. These were a few failures; enough to make an ordinary boy throw up his hands and say: "I've done all I can do; now let the world look out for me."

Just when he become hopeful about the future, when he knew that he had real military genius, he was dismissed from the army, and his career seemed to be ended. He made the thin soup on which he and his brother lived. He could afford to change his shirt only once a week. He said:

"I breakfasted off dry bread, but I bolted the door on my poverty."

He kept at it, and all the time, successful or otherwise, he was developing himself. He developed into an emperor. Young men will please notice that fact, and the fact that Napoleon worked and tried under adversity and monotony instead of grumbling.

The newspaper reporter who does not get ahead very fast, the author whose manuscripts are treated as were Napoleon's first efforts, may study with considerable profit a young American writer named Richard Harding David. That young man had been a reporter in Philadelphia for seven years, when he went to work on a New York evening newspaper at a small salary. He had written and was writing some of his best stories, but could not get ahead, apparently. Nevertheless, he kept on trying, and developed himself. When other young men were busy talking about themselves or deploring their lot, Davis was writing and grinding away out of working hours at the effort to get out and realize what was in him. He succeeded.

A few cases have been mentioned for young men to think over. They are selected at random. No young man need worry about himself so long as he can honestly say that he is doing his best. Being in the same place at the same salary for seven years can do you no harm if you are developing during that times what is in you. But you may well worry if you are drifting aimlessly, pitying yourself, making no effort. If your mind stays in the same place for years, that is dangerous. But don't worry about anything else.

Some engineering authority says that Great Britain must control Egypt because he who controls Egypt controls the Suez canal, which is "the jugular vein of the British empire."

There are other reasons why the British control Egypt. With the British gone, Egypt would drift back to dust and decay. Even for the recent short period of home-made Egyptian rule, the streets of Cairo were dirty, public work was neglected, the hotels deteriorated. If the Egyptians and the inhabitants of India had the energy, the governing genius of the Japanese there would be no need of Englishmen to run those countries.

But left to the Egyptians, the Suez canal would soon cave in and the desert sands would fill it up as they have filled and buried other great works of the old days.

It is very sad to interfere with "sacred liberty." But you can't allow the living world to be ruled from the graveyard. And Egypt, like India, is one of the graveyards of antiquity—a land of dead ideas, of people without modern constructive power.

PRACTICED LAW FOR MANY YEARS; POWER IN DEMOCRATIC POLITICS

Served as Governor of Native State From 1909 to 1913, Was Nominated for Second Place on Party's National Ticket at Baltimore Convention in 1912 and Was Lecturer.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Thomas Riley Marshall, of Indiana, former vice president of the United States, died here this morning.

Marshall had been ill at a hotel here with a severe cold contracted during a trip to the capital from his home in Indianapolis. His condition had improved during the last few days, however, and physicians regarded him as on the way to recovery.

The end came at 9:40 A. M. while the former vice president was sitting up in bed reading his Bible.

After delivering a number of addresses in Indiana, Marshall came here a week ago today. He suffered a heart attack upon his arrival and has been in bed since.

His nurse was in the room when he suddenly fell forward—dead. Mrs. Marshall was in an adjoining room.

Burial in Marion, Ind.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed at noon today, except that Marshall would be buried in the Odd Fellows' cemetery at Marion, Ind., where his father, mother and adopted son are now buried. Funeral services probably will be held both here and in Marion.

Marshall was 71 years old last March. He was born in North Manchester, Ind., and was educated at Wabash college.

After practicing law at Columbia City, Ind., for many years, Marshall became a power in the Democratic party in his native state and served as governor from 1909 to 1913.

The Democratic convention at Baltimore in 1912 which nominated Woodrow Wilson for president, chose Marshall for second place on the ticket. He served as vice president during the administration of Woodrow Wilson and has since been engaged in lecturing in various parts of the country ,while taking no active part in national politics.

Democratic and Unconventional.

Mr. Marshall prided himself on the fact that he had always been "just a plain, every-day, average American citizen," democratic and unconventional, and to his neighbors in Columbia city was always affectionately referred to as "Tom."

He married on October 2, 1895, Miss Lois I. Kimsey, of Angola, Ind. Because of his deep love for his mother he did not marry until she died. The same devotion always existed between him and Mrs. Marshall, who always accompanied him on campaign or lecture trips. With the exception of never missing an opportunity to see a baseball game, Mr. Marshall was not an enthusiast over outdoor sports.

Possessed with a wealth of human sympathy for his fellowmen, Mr. Marshall had a quaint and subtle sense of humor, which the pall of senatorial dignity failed to dampen. Many times the humor was expressed at the expense of some senator. Mr. Marshall was a good story-teller and nothing

MRS. H. R. HILL, AGED 88, DIES

Funeral Services Will be Held at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Louisa Hill, 88, widow of the late Colonel Harrington R. Hill, and a resident of East Liverpool for approximately 60 years, died in her home, East Third and College streets, at 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

Born in Lisbon, December 17, 1837, a daughter of Mahlon and Julia Briggs, Mrs. Hill spent her early days in the county seat and in 1865 was united in marriage to Mr. Hill, following his return from the Civil war. Since then she had resided in the old homestead at 518 East Third street.

Mrs. Hill is survived by three children, Attorneys Walter B. and William M. Hill and Mrs. George E. Davidson, all of East Liverpool, and 10 grandchildren, Rowland E., Eleanor L., Daniel H. and Mabel K. Hill, children

HOMAGE PAID HERO DEAD BY SURVIVORS OF THREE WARS

Memorial Day Programs Featured in Morning and Afternoon.

PARADE IS HELD

State Senator Roberts, Youngstown, Makes Address.

Two separate services were held during the day, both at Riverview cemetery. Private Eddy post No. 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars, honored their deceased members at services during the forenoon, while a joint program under auspices of the G. A. R., Sons of Veterans and the American Legion was held in the afternoon.

Fallen heroes of the Civil war, the Spanish-American war and the World war received homage. From the grave of each veteran fluttered a small American flag, while deposited there was a wreath of evergreen.

Tribute Paid War Martyrs.

The afternoon service at the cemetery was preceded by a parade, headed by surviving members of the G. A. R. Music was furnished by the Salvation Army band. The marchers included representatives of the Sons of Veterans, the American Legion and World War veterans. A troop of Boy Scouts, led by Scoutmaster Edgar Pittenger, Girls Scouts and other marchers took part in the procession, which formed on East Fourth street and passed over sections of Broadway, Sixth street, Fifth street. The parade disbanded at the Horn Switch, marchers going to the cemetery in automobiles and street cars.

The service at the cemetery was in charge of William S. Faulks, commander of East Liverpool Post No. 4 American Legion. The general singing was led by Robert M. Baur. Ritualistic ceremonies were conducted by the G. A. R. and the American Legion.

The speaker was Attorney J. Eugene Roberts, Youngstown, state senator from the 23rd Ohio district, and a World War veteran. Hepaid a glowing tribute to the defenders of the Union in the Civil war, those who made the supreme sacrifice in the Spanish-American war and the fallen heroes in the World war. The service was concluded with three volleys of shots by the American Legion firing squad and the blowing of taps by buglers.

Ritualistic Ceremonies.

Upon instructions from Chief of Police McDermott, locals news stands have removed approximately 22 magazines, listed by Attorney General Crabbe as "obscene and lascivious in character" from the shelvbes.

The list of magazines, so classified by the attorney general, was transmitted to Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes, who in turn communicated the word to the police chief. No objections were voiced by any of the dealers, it is declared.

Many of the magazines, it is claimed, were sent to Chester and Newell news dealers, who reported heavy sales for the publications banned in Ohio. The campaign against the so-called "obscene magazines" was launched several weeks ago by the W. C. T. U.

Driver In Fatal Auto Accident Held On Manslaughter Charge

Charles Van Meter Pleads Not Guilty in Death of Harold Purdy —Unable to Furnish $5,000 Bond.

Charles Van Meter, Monaca street, laborer for the Babcock-Wilcox company, was held for the grand jury under $5,000 bail when he was arraigned before Mayor Charles Brown, Friday evening, on a charge of manslaughter in the death of Harold Purdy, 24, a fellow employe who was struck by Van Meter's automobile on Harvey avenue Thursday night.

Van Meter entered a plea of not guilty. He was not represented at the hearing by counsel, but since then has retained Attorney Ben L. Bennett. Van Meter, unable to furnish bond, was taken to the county jail at Lisbon Saturday, pending grand jury action.

Coroner J. M. Van Fossan, East Palestine, who conducted an inquest over the body at the C. N. Miller funeral home Friday afternoon, returned a verdict that Purdy's death had been caused by a fractured skull, caused when he was "hit by an automobile."

Funeral services for Purdy were conducted in the late home in Harvey avenue at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Burial was made in Riverview cemetery.

OREGON SCHOOL LAW DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL BY U. S. COURT

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The Oregon school law, requiring all children between 8 and 16 years of age to attend public schools exclusively, was declared unconstitutional today by the United States supreme court.

Validity of the law was attacked by the Society of Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary, a Catholic education corporation, and by Hill Military academy, a non-sectarian educational institution. Lower federal courts held the state law vold because it was unconstitutional. An appeal was taken by the state, which the supreme court overruled in its desision.

The decision of the court was delivered by Justice McReynolds.

"The inevitable, practical result of enforcement of the law will destroy these private schools," said the justice. "These schools have long been recognized as filling a lawful need and purpose."

BETTER MAILING WEEK CAMPAIGN OPENS; ELIMINATE 'NIXIES,' IS PLEA

Postmaster McClure Urges Co-operation in Movement to Eliminate "Dead Letter" Office.

A campaign to eliminate the "dead letter" office or at least cut the cost of its operation was launched today by Postmaster J. E. McClure in observance of "Better Mailing Week."

According to Postmaster General Harry S. New, approximately $2,000,000 is spent each year in caring for mail which untimately is consigned to the "dead letter' office.

It is pointed out that approximately 21,000,000 letters went to the "dead letter" office last year; 803,000 parcels did likewise; that 100,000 letters go into the mails each year on perfectly blank envelopes, containing neither the name and address of the person for whom it is intended nor the return address of the writer; that $55,000 in cash is removed each year from mis-directed envelopes; that $12,000 in checks, drafts and money orders never reach their intended owners.

Uncle Sam collects $92,000 annually in postage for the return of mail from the "dead letter" office, it is claimed, and it costs in round figures about $1,740,000 annually to ascertain the addresses on misdirected mail.

The purpose of "Better Mailing Week' is to educate the public to use more care in addressing mail, thereby eliminating all costs in connection with the operation of the "dead letter' office.

"Eliminate Nixies" is the slogan of the postal workers in the "Better Mailing" campaign. If each piece of mail carries a return address and if each parcel is wrapped in stout paper and strong cord, thousands and perhaps millions of dollars will be saved each year.

War Secretary Week's Condition Is "Not so Good"

BOSTON, June 1.—Secretary of War John W. Week's condition was reported "not so good" by physicians today. From Phillips House, Massachusetts General hospital, where the secretary underwent an operation, came the following bulletin:

WHILE NOT ENTHUSIASTIC, MOST OF 48 GOVERNORS WILL CO-OPERATE IN JULY 4 'DEFENSE DAY' PLAN

Copyright, 1925, by I. N. S.

NEW YORK, June 1. — While not militantly enthusiastic over the idea, most of the governors of the 48 states are willing to co-operate with President Coolidge and the war department in the suggested plan to make July 4 annual "defense day" from a national standpoint.

This was disclosed today in a nation-wide poll of gubernatorial sentiment taken by the International News Service.

Many of the governors feel that a day should be set apart each year on which the nation should take stock of its defense situation, when state troops should be mobilized for inspection and survey, and the thoughts of the people generally devoted to the preparedness that may never be necessary but which must always be observed.

Suggest Another Date.

But not all of them by any means believe that this day should be Armistice Day, as originally proposed by the general staff, nor do they whole-heartedly approve of President Coolidge's alternative suggestion of July 4. Not a few of the state executives, while declaring they would "go along" with the federal government. If July 4 is selected, expressed the view that "a better day could be selected" than either Armistice day or the Fourth.

Gov. Angus W. McLean (D) of North Carolina, summed up the views of many of his colleagues in other states when he said: "I heartily approve of President Coolidge's plan to designate a national defense day. I believe in exerting every effort to abolish war and settle international disputes by peaceful means. But until effective measures for this purpose are set up I believe plans for our national defense should not be overlooked.

"It is my intention to authorize mobilization of the national guard on the Gourth of July is requested, though I believe the designiaton of some other day would enable us to effect more complete mobilization.

Gov. Donahey's View.

In a similar vein was the view expressed by Gov. A. V. Donahey (D) of Ohio, who said:

"If July 4 is finally designated by the chief executive as Defense day, I shall issue such proclamation as is desired by the president. It is my belief, however, that a day better suited than the Fourth of July for this test could be chosen.

"The great national significance of this date, in my belief, will submerge the interest in Defense Day."

"I see no objection to having a national Defense Day," said Gov. Hunt. "I do not, however, think that such holidays as Armistice Day and Fourth of July should be utilized for this purpose. I feel both these days should be devoted to the couse of peace rather than consideration of further military activities. However, if the president fixes upon the Fourth I feel we should co-operate—at the same time expressing the hope that it will not become an annual occurrence.

"It is impracticable to mobilize our state troops for July 4," he said. "I am inclined to think an annual Defense day is too often. I feel that every two, or even four, years is sufficient for a test, and not caluculated to emphasize and foster a too militaristic spirit."

Most of the governors contented themselves with merely saying they would co-operate with the federal government, without stating their opinions as to the advisability of the move contemplated in Washington.

13 MOTORISTS TO FACE MAYOR

Traffic Law Offenders Are Arrested Here Over Week-end.

With the exception of traffic violations the local police had a quiet Memorial Day and week-end. Thirteen persons were arrested charged with violation of traffic rules and regulations, while two others were apprehended on charges of drunkenness.

J. E Bair, Sherwood, paid a fine of $10 and costs, totalling to $15.80, when he was arraigned before the mayor charged with fast and reckless driving. Bair is alleged to have driven down Bradshaw avenue Saturday afternoon, at a speed estimated at 45 miles an hour. He was arrested by Chief McDermott.

T. N. Huston, Negley, was arrested by Patrolman McFarland on Bank street, Saturday evening, charged with passing a street car while it was discharging passengers. He posted bond for his appearance.

C. B. Yonz was arrested by Patrolman James Haley on a fast and reckless driving charge. He, too, posted bond for his appearance.

E. J. Guillarmod, construction foreman, was arrested on the River road by Captain Conley last night, after his machine is alleged to have crashed into another car. He was charged with driving a car while intoxicated. No one was injured in the crash although wrecking car equipment was required to separate the two automobiles figuring in the crash.

Charges have also been filed against the holders of the following licenses whose cars were "tagged" by the police in their week-end activities: 242-013, T-112-748; P-C 034; 242-173; 242-063; T-112-419; 241-675.

Mrs. Knapp said today that "truthful answers are expected to all questions."

FAVOR LONDON FOR DEBT MEET

Sidetrack Washington and Paris, is Unofficial Hint.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—A movement has been launched here in unofficial circles close to the administrations in London, instead of either in Paris of Washington.

There was no indication today that this suggestion had come directly from President Coolidge or any member of his cabinet, and for the present they permitted no deviation from the understanding that it was the desire of the administration to have all debt-funding negotiations take place in the United States. In the meantime, however, they are awaiting with interest the reaction in Europe to the unofficial suggestion that the debt conference be held on neutral territory.

Officials pointed out that ample after formal notification had been received from France that she was ready to open debt negotiations. If the French government at that time expressed an unwillingness to send a debt commission to Washington and the United States stood firm against sending an American commission to Paris, the time would then be ripe to extend a formal invitation to both the American and French governments to have their debt negotiations in the British capital.

Strangler Sought In Hunt for Slayer Of Brooklyn Girl

NEW YORK, June 1.—An "habitual strangler" was being sought today in the man hunt for the brutal murderer of Florence Kane, whose mangled body was found in a vacant lot near her Brooklyn home early last Friday morning.

HOPES OF 'WETS' ARE HARD HIT

Prohibition Repeal Unlikely—May Get 2.75 Beer.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—A death blow to the hopes of "wets" that the national prohibition law may be repealed, if the Coolidge administration's rum war fails, was sounded King, Democrat, of Utah, who led here today by Senator William H. of the eighteenth amendment.

congressional opposition to enactment

King declared there can be no real change in the dry statute, even though the government finally confesses its inability to properly enforce the law. To restore old-fashioned beer and other intoxicating liquors, he said, ment with its ratification by 36 states, would require a constitutional amendadded, is hopeless during the present generation.

The only possible modification, King asserted, might come by action of congress to legalize 2.75 per cent beer and wine. This percentage of alSuch an overthrow of prohibition, he coholic content, he explained, already has been termed "non-intoxicating" by government experts and therefore is not banned by the eighteenth amendment.

TRIBUTE PAID FALLEN HEROES

Wellsville ex-service men and citizens paid tribute to the city's soldier dead at the annual Memorial Day services Sunday morning in Spring Hill cemetery.

A large throng heard Attorney Eugene Roberts, of Youngstown, eulogize veterans of the nation's conflicts in a stirring plea for their eternal remembrance.

The cemetery exercises were preceded by short services at the soldiers' and sailors' monument in Riverside avenue and Fourth street. F. E. Sellman delivered a short talk as the flag was raised to the breeze. School children, ex-soldiers, sailors and citizens took part in the ensuing march to the cemetery.

Appropriate music was provided by the American Legion band. Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, and Rev. R. E. Games, pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church, assisted in the services. Singing of "America" was led by Superintendent of Schools S. E. Daw. Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read by E. T. Fogo.

In his address, Attorney Roberts briefly recounted the historic achievements of the nation from the time of the landing of the colonists. He concluded his talk with a plea that the country never forget its deeds of those who fell on the fields of battle.

A half-dozen aged warriors, survivors of the days of '61, sat through the services. Unable to carry out the customary G. A. R. exercises, the veterans in blue placed this part of the srevices in the hands of Legion ex-service men, J. B. Fickes and John Grafton, who read off the ritual

Graves of fallen soldiers were decorated by school children and the Legion.

LEGION STARTS DRIVE TUESDAY

Wellsville post 70, American Legion, tomorrow will launch its endowment fund drive for disabled veterans, and orphans, seeking from the city $813 as the local post's share of the country's $5,000,000 quota.

The principle, when raised, will be placed in the hands of capable executives. Only the interest will be used, and this solely in relief activities.

Instead of $813, however, the local Legion post will ask the city for only $733, because of the fact that Legion members themselves have already contributed 10 percent of the city quota, or approximately $80. This amount has been paid in and is in the bank. One member entered the $10 class, three the $5 division; several contributed $2, and others $1 and more.

Merchants Erect Flags.

A series of large American flags, erected at intervals along the sidewalks from Third to Seventh street, added greatly to the appearance of the city on Memorial day.

The flags were purchased by local merchants throdgh the Veterans of Foreign wars, commanded by Fred Heldman.

But—

Carpenters continue to get Wartime Wages and then some

Instead of a cut, they got a $2.00 a Day Boost in 1923

With everyone else having his income reduced to meet changed conditions, the carpenter has had a substantial boost. And no one is trying to take it away from him.

But he isn't satisfied.

If he gets still another increase, who will pay it? Every man who builds; every man who buys; every man who rents.

That's your money he's after.

Rev. R. W. Ustick Addresses 1925 Graduating Class.

"Henceforth, let no man trouble me, for I bear branded on my body the marks of Jesus." Taking this as his theme, Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, delivered an inspirational address to 54 girls and boys of the high school graduating class last night at baccalaureate services in the school auditorium.

Hundreds of Wellsville citizens, including parents of the seniors who within a week will bid farewell to the Orange and Black, crowded the auditorium.

Rev. Ustick's address follows:

"The man who fell before the face of Christ, in the dust of the Damascus road, whose acceptance of Christ as his Lord was so genuine that he became the supreme leader of the forces of the Christ whom he had before persecuted, whose eloquence has shaped his Christian thought of the centuries, is the author of the words before us. The Apostle Paul is the writer of this flaming sentence. 'I bear branded on my body the marks of Jesus.'

"His historical self defense or his apostleship, his theological argument, his practical admonitions, with the blended strain of entreaty that runs through the whole—now rising into awful severity, now sinking into mother-like tenderness—have reached their conclusion.

"The stream of deep and fervent thought pouring itself out in these pages has spent its force. But in the closing word this apostle has left the world no more characteristic utterance of his mind, or no more clearer insight into the texture of his life than this word of our text.

"What led the apostle to say this? What is it exactly that he has said? What did he mean when he said this? There are questions to be answered in the beginning.

"What does Paul mean? He means that the justification for his life is found in the kind of a life he has lived. He means that the scars of his service are the credentials of his apostleship. He means that his right to proclaim the gospel of Christ is proven by the signs of what he has suffered in the proclamation of that gospel. H emeans that his life blood has been given in eloquent tribute of his devotion and loyalty to Christ.

"It is this work we want to give to these young ladies and gentlemen of the graduating class. We know of no more challenging werd to give to this class in whose future each of us are so vitally interested, than this word of the Apostle Paul, 'Henceforth let no man trouble me; for I bear branded in my body the marks of Jesus.'

"When your life reaches its apex—when it comes to the supreme test, whether you had the right to live will then be determined by the marks with which your life has branded you. At the close you will each bear branded in your life the marks of something, or some one.

"I charge you tonight with the future. I want you to look ahead, so that when you have lived the life for which you are now preparing, the burnt-in brands of that life shall be the credentials which no man can question. Allow me to suggest to you that you live the Christ-branded life.

"There are three questions to which I draw your attention.

"1. What are the marks of a Christ-branded man?

"There must be an appraisement of the life of Christ himself. The most diverse types of mind have recognized in Jesus the ideal life for men. Strauss says of him, 'Never at any time will it be possible to rise above him, or to imagine anyone who should ever be equal with him.' John Stuart Mill said, 'There is no better rule than so to live that Christ would approve your life.' The Apostle John said, 'Behold the Lamb of God who takes a way the sin of the world.' Peter cried, 'Thou art the Christ,' and Paul exclaims, 'For me to live is Christ.'

"'I believe,' says Mr. Ruskin, in Modern Literature, 'the first test of a truly great man is his humility. All great men not only know of their business, but usually know that they know it, and are not only right in their main opinions, but they usually know that that they are right in them, only they do not think much of themselves on that account.

"They have a curious undersense of powerlessness, feeling that the power is not IN them, but THROUGH them, that they could not do or be anything else that God made them, and they see something divine and God-made in every other man they meet, and are endlessly, foolishly, incredibly merciful.

"A humility even deeper than this marked the life of Christ. He was thoroughly submissive to the Father's will. Josus lived a life of sacrifical service.

"'I am come, not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give my life a ransom for the many.' Jesus lived a friendly life. He loved his enemies.

"With Christ before us it will not be hard to discover the marks of a Christian man. He will be pure, His life will be friendly, the truth will shape his footsteps and mould his words, service will grace his ministry like a golden crown, and a Christ-like character will be the fruit that he will hand back to God.

"Truth must be the first law in character and happiness. And purity must be wrought into this building. John Milton said: 'He who would write a heroic poem must first live a heroic life.'

"Has service a place in your plans, are you looking at your life as an opportunity of investment?

"There are many other things here that we cannot mention. This is sufficient—that to have the marks of a Christ-branded man about you, you must be richly endowed with the spirit of Christ—you must live your life as he lived his.

"The first thing is: Believe in Christ."

"As a historical figure merely, Christ can benefit us but little. He must be accepted by us, our life must be pressed close to His life to receive from Him what He has to give us.

"The second thing is: Put on Christ. As we believe in Christ we throw our lives in the way of the impelling force of his influence and our lives are changed from without—we become like Him.

"The third thing: Abide in Christ. Obey Him, and you will love Him; abide in Him and you must obey Him; cultivate daily His Friendship—live after Christ day by day, and you will be abiding in Christ.

"The third question follows: What Are the measurements of a Christ-branded life?

"First, a changed life. Under the right conditions it is as natural for character to become beautiful as for a flower. We become like those whom we habitually admire. We are all mosaics of other men. On the doctrine of influence the whole vast pyramid of humanity is built.

"We do no more than state this simple fact, that the first result of a Christ-branded life will be that you will live a changed life. This simple fact becomes supremely important in view of the second result: a challenging life. The only prospect you have of making an impression upon the world into which you are going, is to carry out to that world a changed life. Then, and only then, can you challenge the facts of life in a worth while way. Changed men will change the world, and challenge the many problems of the world. The scrap heap of abandoned hopes grows large as one after another of the follies which we hoped were to redeem humanity have betrayed their own futility.

The doctrine of Godless, automatic progress lies buried on the battlefields of France. The desperate delusion of salvation through social and industrial revolution has had its bloody revelation in Moscow.

Redemption by materialistic intellectualism reveals its fallacy in broken Germany.

"A Christ-branded life will be a changed life and that in turn means a challenged life. This is your only hope of justifying your years of preparation—that your challenge life with a character changed by the impact of Christ's life upon your own.

"A claimed life is the third measurement of a Christ-branded life. The seal of Divine ownership is upon that sort of life—you become a co-laborer with Christ—you enter the fellowship of master Christians, when the marks of Christ are branded upon you. We become members of the brotherhood of the branded brow—God claims us as his own. Claimed by him in the end, his name branded on their foreheads—this is the measurement of a Christ-branded life.

"Summing them up, the measurement of a life that carries branded the marks of Jesus, are these: It will be a changed life, a challenging life and a claimed life.

"My friends of the graduating class, we congratulate you upon the thing you have attained. You have completed one step forward into the future. The results of your future work will be but the products of your deciding how to do certain things and of your working at them until you have done these things.

"You should be greatly concerned about what sort of a purpose you have in life, for you will most certainly go in the direction in which you have purposed to go. We know of no better purpose for you than the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

"The high way which openeth to you tonight, my dear friends, is the highway of the Christ-branded life. It is the way that leads you out through the future years to the day when, looking back over the trail you will be able to say, henceforth let no man trouble me; for I bear branded in my body the marks of Jesus.

"We wish you God speed; we shall pray for you, and think of you, and be interested in you."

How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

PRISONER MAKES ESCAPE; RETURNS

Facing two charges, one filed in Wellsville police court and the other in a Jefferson county court, Mervin Rowley, of this city, today is a prisoner in the Jefferson county jail at Steubenville following his sensational escape from police headquarters here Saturday night when he is alleged to have assaulted Officer Chal Excell. Rowley voluntarily gave himself up several hours after he had made his getaway.

Rowley will be arraigned in Steubenville on a charge of moving mortgaged furniture from Jefferson county. He was arrested here at the request of Jefferson county authorities.

A charge of resisting an officer will await the prisoner if he re-appears in the local police court.

According to authorities, Rowley made his getaway from city hall here Saturday night. He is said to have asked Officer Excell for a drink of water. The latter got the water and handed it to Rowley and the latter, it is claimed, suddenly threw his body against Excell's, and toppled him over into several chairs in the council chamber. Before Excell could extricate himself, Rowley dashed down the steps and disappeared. Excell fired several shots in the air in front of city hall, in an attempt to frighten the escaping prisoner.

Later in the night, Rowley, from a local telephone, called Chief of Police John Fultz, and asserted he was ready to go back to jail. He later gave himself up and Sunday was taken to Steubenville.

EAST LIVERPOOL — AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

MONDAY, JUNE 1, 1925.

Better Mailing Week

Postmaster J. E. McClure today appealed to patrons of the East Liverpool postoffice to help Uncle Sam annihilate "nixies"—a piece of mail so carelessly and poorly wrapped that it can neither be delivered nor returned without special treatment. Because "nixies" cost the government $2,000,000 a year, stress on proper addresses is being made this week by all workers in the postal service.

Judging from the fact that 21,000,000 letters and 803,000 parcels went to the dead letter office last year, thousands of patrons of the mails take it for granted that Uncle Sam has many wonder-workers on his payroll.

Despite expert handling and careful study of hand-writing on the part of post clerks, the annual revenue from dead mail matter received by the government amounts to approximately $300,000.

Last year the dead letter office received $120,000 from the sale of orphaned packages which could neither be forwarded to the addresses nor returned to the senders because of inadequate addresses. The same office turned into the United States treasury $55,523.96 in cash removed from misdirected letters or found loose in the mails.

Postage stamps were taken from letters or found loose in the mails having a value of $12,165.67, almost double the entire revenue of the postal service in 1789

Three-cent fees collected for the return to senders of letters which could not be delivered totaled $92,007.54.

But this is not half the story. Checks, drafts and money orders, whose owners could not be located, and amounting to $3,546,542.54 finally found a resting place in the dead letter office.

Help annihilate the "nixies" by putting your address in the upper left-hand corner of envelopes and parcels after writing the correct address of your correspondent. Let's put the dead letter office out of business and improve the postal service.

National Burglar Insurance

"I saw America 20 years ago, and I am amazed at its growth," says Dean Inge, of London. "It has raced ahead of Europe. We (the Europeans) have only progressed slowly, but America has made enormous speed. Already it is probably the greatest country in the world. It has such a position that it is invulnerable. It can devote all its energies to improving itself, whereas Europe has to spend a quarter of its income on a sort of burglar insurance against war."

It is very kind of the reverend gentleman to say all this, and most of his remarks are probably deserved. But doesn't he strain, just a little, the idea that America is able to devote "all its energies" to self-government?

Looking into the budget of the United States government for the current year, we find that we are spending something like $1,300,000,000 on the war and navy departments and the veterans' bureau, with a couple of hundred millions for military pensions and $865,000,000 for interest on the public debt—nearly all military debt. This makes about $2,100,000,000, nearly two-thirds of the government's income, for the expense of wars, past and prospective. Here is quite a little "burglar insurance" and burglar damages for a country which the dean enviously calls "invulnerable."

Simplified Litigation

Not all diseases require a major operation for cure and not all legal disputes require unpleasant litigation in court. A lawyer explains it this way:

"Sometimes I get to work on a particularly complicated case with so many angles that the solution seems hopeless. I get down my law books and begin to search them for light on the subject. And then I think of the lawyer on the other side and realize that he's in exactly the same predicament. I call him up, and we get together and talk the thing over honestly and frankly and usually we reach some simple compromise that delights both sets of clients, saves a lot of time and annoyance and does away with the need of costly court procedure."

A good many more lawyers have this common-sense attitude toward the law and legal disputes than is generally realized. If more people knew this they would have less fear of lawyers and would consult about their affairs oftener, thus avoiding many of the complicated difficulties they get themselves into.

Milk From Well-lighted Cows

Anthracite in the coal bin is usually considered an unqualified good. The "anthracitics principle" in milk is something not so clearly understood. Nevertheless it is said to be essential to the health of the human body. Perhaps it is a cousin to vitamines.

At any rate, physicians and agricultural chemists have found from careful experiments that when cows lack sunlight their milk is deficient in this principle and the users of the milk are thereby defrauded of something they need. If the cows are subjected to artificial light from electric lamps giving forth mercury-vapor rays, their milk then contains the "anthracitic principle" and all is well.

The cows probably won't object to this mercury-vapor treatment. They undoubtedly miss the sunshine on cloudy days and may even rejoice in bovine fashion for a little artificial radiance in the barn.

Unusual Conduct of The Week-end Motorist— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 1.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Early up and a brave bright day and so with my wife, poor wretch, by tram to Atlantic City to linger awhile on the sand and contemplate the sea.

And on the beach a little girl dropped her sand bucket as I passed and cried: "Oo! mother, what a skinny man!" and some simpering zanies twittered. So I plunged into the sea to cool my blushes. Afterward to ride in a roller chair to the Inlet, pushed by a tatterdemalion who told of having been graduated from a medical school and he was asked what brought him to such low estate and he replied in a sermonette: "Trying to be a good fellow."

Back along the boardwalk and bought some salt water taffy and mighty catch. Took tram again at then out to the fish pier to see the 10 and slept all the way from Philadelphia home.

Culture is being broadcast to the Tired Business Man by mail. A young man of great learning who fizzled on a high brow magazine is now furnishing a terse resume of the latest plays, novels and art exhibits, his dinner companion that he is not weekly so that the T. B. may show so dumb as it might appear.

Gene Tunney, the pugilist, is almost a double of the Handsome Hal of the collar ads. He is one of the bright sartorial spots of Broadway's Fashion Row. He is to New York what Gene Markey is to Chicago. the nonchalance of a Harry Lehr and Tunney wears full evening dress with self-respecting spectrum curl up a few his scarfs and hose would make any colors and pant for air. So distinguished a dilettante as Michael Arlen, the petted darling of Mayfair, pronounced Tunney a stophole in Chesterfieldian elan.

And speaking of Arlen, the closing days of his visit here proved a striging example of how New York can pick up a visitor, rush him off his feet and then calmly turn its back—like the child tiring of a new toy. No visiting novelist has ever been received with such a flourish. He was lionized by society as well as the Algonquinites. Bored reporters dogged his steps because he was news. Menus concocted dishes a la Arlen. Hat shops displayed Arlen hats with a side dip.

Soulful young ladies clotted at his hotel door so he would doff his hat to them in his mignon way. A supper club offered him $1,000 a week merely to drop in some time during the evening for a few moments. Arlen, Arlen everywhere.

A week before his departure interest sliughed off. Arleen was here but the enthusiasm was not. He had not failed to make an impression. New York had merely, in its customary fashion, turned to something new. "Paper Collar" Joe used to say anyone could be a ten-day wonder in New York but to keep it up was something else again.

The celebrity with the least self-consciousness of all I have seen is John McCormack, the singer. He appears to display the art of self-effacement in every gathering. He sits in the most inconspicuous corner and is able to listen to those about him without being bored.

There is another celebrity who arranges for a series of telephone calls while he is attending a party. He is being constantly called away from the dinner table for important conversations. Ring Lardner sat next to him one evening and after returning from the third call. Lardner said: "I hope nothing serious is worrying Coolidge."

TRIBUTE PAID SOLDIER DEAD

Parade is Followed by Exercises at Locust Hill.

Fitting tribute was paid to the soldier dead here Memorial day when impressive ceremonies were held in Locust Hill cemetery following a parade over the principal streets of the city.

The parade formed at Tenth street and Carolina avenue and from that point moved to First street where automobiles were taken to the cemetery. Mayor Frank Riley was marshal. More than 200 handsomely decorated automobiles led the line of march. They were followed by the World war veterans on foot and Civil war veterans in autos. Music was furnished by the Salvation Army band of East Liverpool. The parade was witnessed by a large crowd that lined the sidewalks over the route of march.

Ceremonies at the cemetery opened with the song "America," after which the opening prayer was delivered by Rev. A. E. Sims, pastor of the First Christian church. General Logan's order establishing Memorial day was read after which the ritual was carried out by members of Jesse Burge Post No. 222, Veterans of Foreign Wars. The address was delivered by Rev. Frederic A. Cromer, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Pughtown. Singing by a quartet and assembly was directed by Carl G. Woods. Introductory address was made by Rev. J. H. McKnight, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, while the benediction was offered by Rev. A. E. Sims.

TWO YOUTHS GIVEN FINES BY MAYOR

Chief of Police Brady Seevers arrested two youths here last Friday night while in the act of removing spare tires from a machine at Rock Springs park. They were arraigned later in the evening before Mayor Frank Riley and each fined $25 and $35. They made arrangements to pay and were released from custody.

MILL WORKER BEING SOUGHT

Beaver county, Pa., officials today are seeking James Ferena, Midland mill worker, who was the principal in a "mysterious" shooting affray near Hookstown last week. Ferena said he was struck by a shot fired through the door of his automobile while he and two companions were sitting in the car waiting for a storm to abate, but did not know who shot him. Recovering from a flesh wound, Ferena was discharged from the East Liverpool hospital where he was brought last Monday morning.

William Davidson, a special Beaver county investigator, claims that Ferena and his two friends went to a small shack occupied by John Molwich, near Hookstown, and fired into the building.

Molwich returned the fire, one of the bullets wounding Ferena. Molwich sustained several buckshot wounds in his back but was not seriously injured.

CHESTER TRIMMED HERE SATURDAY

Chester baseball team of the Industrial league, minus a number of regular players, fell an easy prey to New Cumberland here Saturday afternoon before a large crowd, score 10 to 4. The locals were far below their usual form and the county seaters had little trouble in winning.

This evening the locals will meet the re-organized Nash Motors of Wellsville on the Fifth street diamond. Thursday evening Knowles, Taylor and Knowles will play here. This game was scheduled for Wellsville but was switched here owing to a carnival occupying the ball grounds.

Haskin's Letter

work Guild of America is the direct result of the inspiration furnished by an Englishwoman. In 1883, Lady Wolverton, who had for some time been much interested in a certain orphan asylum, conceived the idea of asking her friends to contribute each year two pieces of wearing apparel or of household linen for use in this asylum. She made the request that each of these articles be new. This was not to be an opportunity to rid one's self of garments no longer in style, or which were no longer desired.

Lady Wolverton succeded in interesting a number of her friends in her project. She named the group the Needlework Guild because of the original idea that the garments be made by the members themselves. After this first group had been organized for some time a local paper carried a notice of the work. This was copied in a London paper and Princess Mary of Cambridge, Duchess of Teck and the mother of the present Queen of England, became so interested in the movement that she organized the London Needlework Guild.

In 1885 Mrs. Alanson Hartpence, of Philadelphia, was traveling in England and heard of this organization and its work. When she returned to the United States she told of it, and her niece, who is now Mrs. John Wood Stewart, became so enthusiastic over the idea that she persuaded some of her friends to join her in starting a similar organization.

In deference to Lady Wolverton, who originated the idea, she called this little band the Needlework Guild of America. This organization has now grown to a membership of approximately 600,000, and has branches all over the United States. In the first year of its existence the number of garments collected was 921, while in 1924, 1,213,755 were collected.

Objects of the Guild.

The object of The Needlework Guild of America, is as stated in its by-laws, to collect and distribute new, plain, suitable garments to meet the great need of hospitals, homes, and and other charities, and to extend its usefulness by the organization of branches. Special collections of garments may be taken at times of local, national or international disaster.

The only requirement for membership is the annual contribution of two or more new articles of wearing apparel or household linen, or a donation of money. Any man, woman or child may become a member. The organization is non-sectarian and members of any faith are welcomed.

That this is true not only in theiry but in fact is shown by a report from Minneapolis: "We have succeeded in enlisting the help of all creeds in nationalities as Guild contributors. We have a wonderful Jewish section, one of Swedish women, Norwegian, two Catholic sections, various churches, study clubs and philanthropic societies."

While it is specially stated that garments collected in the regular manner should not be sent to foreign countries, special collections are made for this purpose. For instance, at the outbreak of the European war in 1914 workrooms were established at Lyons, France. Later a War Relief department was opened in New York City for the purpose of aiding the needy of the allied countries.

The various branches of the guild took a particular interest in the people of St. Quentin, and many adopted orphens for whom they are still caring. Of course, in such cases it is necessary to obtain money, and one branch in Connecticut does this by giving a bridge party. Their friends like to come and enjoy themselves immensely. On one such occasion they were able without much effort to raise not only enough to readopt their particular French orphan, but an additional $25 which was used to help two needy St. Quentin families in whom they had formerly been interested. Thus the members of this branch combined an enjoyable social event with a good deed.

While money has always been a minor consideration with the Guild, no organization can be efficiently operated without funds. An executive office must be maintained, and money is necessary to defray certain expenses in connection with various conferences held for the purpose of stimulating interest in this guild and extending its activities. It was found that the contributions of the money-members—which number only one to every twenty-two garments—were insufficient to meet all these demands. Therefore a "Thank Offering" was established.

To this offering each branch is asked to contribute something—no matter how small the amount. It is not desired that the amount contributed work a hardship on any individual member. Various methods of raising this money have been contrived by the branches. Some held bazaars, the returns from which are used for this purpose. Some have rumage sales, others lawn parties, and still others bridge parties. One branch gave a large ball on which $300 was cleared. A portion of this was contributed to the Thank Offering. The rest was used for two purposes—to purchase materials out of which garments might be made, and as a donation to a shoe fund.

One of the most interesting phases of the work of the guild is its cooperation with Dr. Grenfell in his activities in Labrador. Dr. Grenfell is an English missionary physician who a number of years ago became much interested in the mariners of the North Sea. He has always maintained that it is important to improve the physical and economic conditions of these people before stressing the spiritual. He has devoted himself to this end, and through his efforts several hospitals, a series of cooperative stores, mills, and orphanage and a school have been built.

The Labrador branches of the guild reported that during the year 1923 they jointly contributed over 27,000 garments and articles of household linen. Because of the extremely cold climate of Labrador many heavier garments are needed than are usually contributed by guild members. Money has therefore been collected with which to purchase these.

Bed covering is another great need of the people of this far north country, and Dr. Grenfell recently requested that if possible the branches cooperating with him send blankets—thick or thin, old or new. He made the startling statement that some of these people have no blankets at all.

From a small group of energetic young women of Philadelphia in 1885, the guild has grown to a national organization affiliated with the Camp Fire Girls, the Aemrican Red Cross, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and other national associations. This is work where all can cooperate, met on the common ground of welfare service. It is a bond between peoples of differing creeds, nationalities and viewpoints. It is fuel beneath the melting pot.

Thought his case was hopeless
Resinol cleared away pimples in a week

Lexington, Mass., March 5:—"I had been suffering from shaving pimples on my neck for years and, I believe, had tried everything under the sun for them without avail. One day on a friend's advice, I purchased some of your Resinol Ointment and was astonished at the quick results. After a week's constant use, the pimples disappeared completely, leaving the skin clear and fresh. I had thought my case was hopeless, so you can readily see why I was overjoyed at this cure! You can be sure that henceforth you have one more loyal booster for your product." (Signed) Fred J. Fox, 8 Bloomfield St.

Too Big For Anyone to Miss!

Norma Talmadge in this stirring production rises to the pinnacle of dramatic art with the sheer inspiration of unfaultering genius. She lays bare the throbbing heart of a little dancing girl with such tender touches it brings a tear to every eye—the story of a girl who yearned to be a lady, and never realized what a wonderful Lady she was until someone looked into her heart.

After "Smilin' Through"; 'Secrets' and all the other big ones comes the supreme triumph of our Norma's career.

CHILDRENS CROSS WORD PUZZLE

Children's Pictorial Cross Word Puzzle—How To Solve Puzzle.

The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form words. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

Running Across

Word 4. To go into.
Word 5. A high singing voice.

Running Down

Word 1. Opposite to sour.
Word 2. Frequently.
Word 3. A mistake. We make many of them in spelling, grammar, etc.

Norma Talmadge in Film of Stage Hit

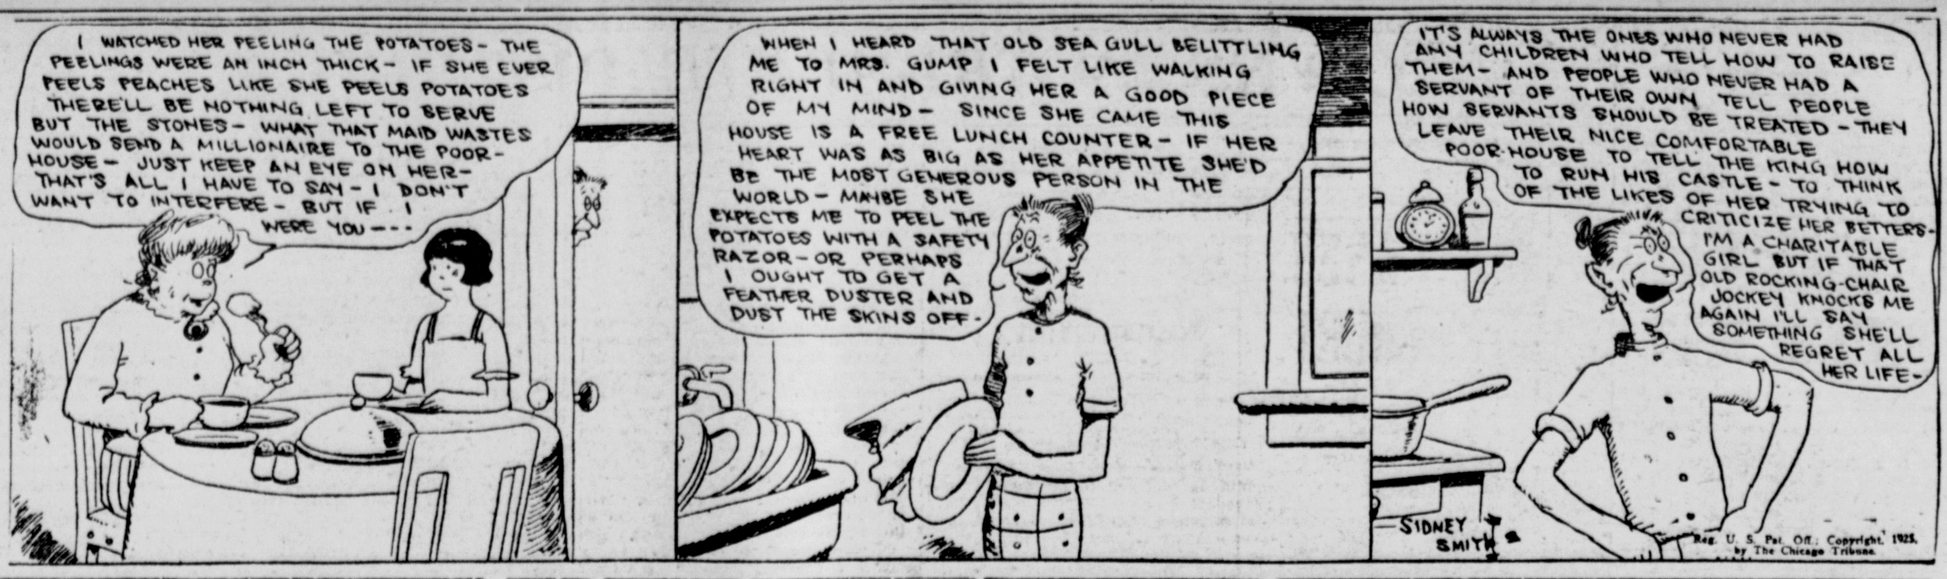

Norma Talmadge's latest photoplay, "The Lady," had a long run on the New York and London stages before it was purchased by Joseph M. Schenck for the screen. The stage play was written by Martin Brown. The locale of the picture covers London, Monte Carlo, the safe quarter of Marseilles and the seaport of Havre, France. Norma Talmadge plays the role of Polly Roll, a part taken by Mary Nash in the stage version. Wallace MacDonald is Norma's leading man.

MacDonald is the fifth leading man Norma Talmadge has had recently. Eugene O'Brien had that honor in "Secrets," and Norma's just completed photoplay, "The Only Woman;" Conway Tearle was in "Ashes of Vengeance," Joseph Schildkraut in "The Song of Love" and Jack Mulhall in "Within the Law."

MacDonald has recently appeared in "The Spoilers," "Thy Name Is Woman," "Maytime," "The Sea Hawk," "The Red Lily" and "We Are French."

LARGE MONUMENT AT LOCUST HILL

What is perhaps one of the largest monuments between Pittsburgh and Wheeling has been erected in Locust Hill cemetery by William Hazen Green of Newell in memory of his wife, Mrs. Emma Hazel Green. The stone, which was carved in Italy, weighs approximately ten tons and stands 13 feet eight inches. It was placed in position recently by Slater Bros. of Freedom, Pa.

Feature Patriotic Program.

Patriotic program was featured at the monthly meeting of the Sunbeam Mission band Friday afternoon in the Sunday school room of the First Presbyterian church. Miss Alice Riser presided.

Participate in Memorial Exercises.

STATE TRAFFIC OFFICERS BANNED

Traffic officers will soon be a thing of the past on the improved highways of West Virginia. The road commission has reached this decision, after experiencing great annoyance over arrests made by such officers. As fast as present appointees' terms expire, the positions will be left vacant.

Open Weirton Station.

Regional officials of the Pennsylvania system attended the formal opening of the new $50,000 station at Weirton last Thursday. The structure was afterwards opened to public inspection.

School Board Session.

The Grant district school board will meet in the Newell school building Wednesday evening.

Bible Study Class Meeting.

Members of the Bible Study class of the First Methodist Episcopal church will meet tonight in the church parlors. Rev. J. W. Schrader will be in charge of the lesson.

AUTHOR ACCEPTS DEATH WHEN SHOWN PROOFS OF LIFE'S WORK

WALTHAM, Mass. — A reward that all men are not spared to receive—to have an aim in life and to actually see the fruits of years of labor before death—came to Alexander Starbuck, dean of Greater Boston newspapermen, who passed away at the age of 84 years.

News stories of the death of the editor did not tell of the drama enacted at the bedside a few short hours before the end.

Fifty years ago Alexander Starbuck wrote the first paragraph of a history of Nantucket Island, the place of his birth.

Chapter after chapter was added throughout the long years that followed. Innermost recesses of early American history were delved. The history was his supreme object in life. Recently he retired from active newspaper work to devote himself to concluding the work.

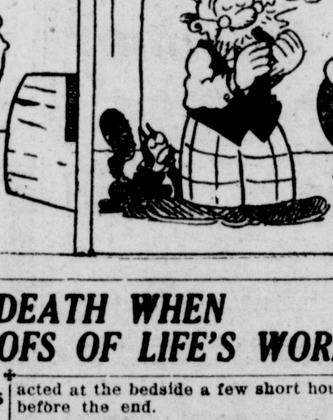

This year he wrote "finis" at the end of 700 pages. The book was sent to the printer. Then Starbuck was taken sick. He rapidly became worse.

In a voice just audible he gave his last wish—to see his book before he died.

Messengers were rushed to the printer. The work of typesetting and printing was speeded. A courier hurried to the Starbuck death chamber with the first copy, still wet with ink.

The aged editor rose in his bed. He glanced over the pages. Then he smiled, sank back on his pillow—and death came.

Conquers Bad Breadth and is Popular Again

"The day I started taking Carter's Little Liver Pills," says Mr. John A. Perry of New York City, "my habitual bad breath and bad stomach stopped. I strongly recommend them to all those afflicted with these nasty troubles I assure you that my own case was a bad one, causing me untold embarrassment, and Carter's helped me right from the start."

Bad breath comes from sour stomach and can usually be relieved quickly by Carter's Little Liver Pills.

NEWS FROM TOWNS IN TRI-STATE DISTRICT

LISBON

M. K. Zimerman, West Park Ave. Phone 319-R. Lisbon, O.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVED HERE

Children from the age of five years to veterans of the Civil war, aged 85 years, took part in the Memorial day prade in Lisbon Saturday afternoon. The children who marched to the Lisbon cemetery carried garlands to decorate the graves of the soldier dead.

The parade was headed by the Presbyterian band of Lisbon. All soldier organizations took part, including members of Starr Post G. A. R., Sons of Veterans, American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars and including the Women's Relief corps.

The memorial day address was delivered by the Rev. G. W. Beaver of St. Jacobs Reformed church, this service being held in Lisbon opera house. A crowd that filled the main auditorium attended this event.

Lisbon homes were more generously decorated with American flags than at any time since the community observed the signing of the Armistice.

ELIZABETH MINTO SUES FOR $7,000

Before the late Amanda Smith of Liverpool township died intestate Dec. 10, 1924, it is claimed in a petition filed in common pleas court by Attorney W. A. O'Grady of Wellsville, that she promised to pay Mary Elizabeth Minto for her care and keep during her illness.

As a result of this promise, Miss Minto has filed a claim for $7,000 against Leanore McKee of East Liverpool as administratrix of the estate of Amanda Smith.

Miss McKee in her petition relates that on May 12 last she presented the administratrix with a written statement of her claim and that on May 15 this claim was rejected and refused.

The petition relates that the plaintiff seeks the recovery, for her services, work, caring and nursing Amanda Smith $3,340 for 167 weeks at the rate of $20 per week and $3,660 for 244 weeks at the rate of $15 per week, or a total amount due for 411 weeks' services amounting to $7,000.

RULINGS HANDED DOWN BY COURT

Judgment by default has been rendered in the case of Lewis Bros. of East Liverpool against George B. M. Killmer filed recently in common pleas court. The plaintiff company obtained a judgment for $622.45 and plaintiff's costs and the court has ordered the foreclosure of a chattel mortgage.

The attachment case of Howard J. Kachner against Nicholas C. Falk has been settled at the costs of the plaintiff.

Leave to the defendants, Willis Shockley and Catherine Shockley to file an answer has been granted by the court in the case of the City Savings Bank & Trust company against Willis Shockley and others. In this action the plaintiff interest seeks the recovery of a claim for $1,163.79.

The case of the Brown Shoe company against Bernard Teitelbaum to recover a claim of $823.36 has been dismissed on the motion of the plaintiff and at their costs.

To Sell Farm Land.

Although trustees of St. Jacob's Reformed church of Center township were authorized by the congregation to sell certain of its farm land fronting on the Lisbon and Salem road, one of the trustees would not abide by the action of the congregation.

The other two trustees then filed a petition in court asking the permission of the court to sell five acres, and Judge James G. Moore has just granted the prayer of the petitioners.

Schreiber Speaks.

V. A. Schreiber, formerly or East Liverpool, but now in charge of the Canton district offices of the Anti Saloon League spoke at the evening service at the Lisbon United Presbyterian church of which the Rev. J. M. Cameron is pastor.

No Special Session.

Unless there are unforseen circumstances arising in the meantime, there will be no grand jury called until the opening of the next term of court. At this time there are very few cases awaiting investigation by the grand jury, and only two cases are now a matter of record, so far as the record of Sheriff George Wright disclose. Both of these actions are for auto thefts.

Auto Sale Bills Filed.

There were 1,030 automobile sale bills filed for record in the office of Clerk of Courts John T. Burns during May, the volume of business falling short about 50 registrations from the peak record of April. The receipts from this registration totaled $257.50, all of which goes to the credit of the county fees fund.

Many Divorce Actions.

Twenty actions for divorce were filed in common pleas court during May, which equals the record for April, when a similar number were filed. There were 65 new civil actions filed in the appearance docket during May, so that about one-third of the cases recorded were those petitioning for divorce. In one case alone, alimony only is asked.

DIVORCE CASES HEARD BY COURT

Six Decrees Issued by Judge Moore—One Action Passed.

After Hazel M. Libert of Salem filed an action for divorce against her husband, Lee Roy Libert, May 4, 1922, Libert joined the United States army. The petition for the plaintiff was filed by Attorney K. L. Coburn, and while a number of entries have been written into the record since that time, the action never came up for final hearing until now. The petition charged Libert with gross neglect of duty and the court on May 12, 1922, ordered Libert to pay his wife $25 within 10 days and then $5 per week there after until further order of court for the support of his minor child.

It was then Libert left Salem and drifted into the army. The court granted the decree prayed for, and also awarded the custody of the minor child to the mother.

Charging her husband with extreme cruelty, Florence Fisher has been granted a decree of divorce from her husband, Clinton Fisher. The defendant has been ordered by the court to pay his wife $6 per week for the support of a minor child. The action was filed Nov. 6, 1924.

In the divorce action filed for Carl A. Connor by Attorney G. Jay Clark against Nellis L. Connor, the original petition of the plaintiff has been withdrawn, and leave was given the defendant to file an answer through her counsel, Robert M. Brookes. This was done by her next friend, Charles H. Conkle. There was an immediate trial to the court, and a decree was awarded Mrs. Connor on the grounds of gross neglect of duty. The custody of the children was awarded the mother, and the court has ordered Connor to pay alimony as agreed upon.

Alice Burson, who has been granted a decree of divorce from her husband, Russell Burson, has been restored to her maiden name, Alice Fox. In her petition she alleged gross neglect of duty as a cause of action.

"Dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff as parties are now living together" reads the entry on the court calendar in the divorce case of Laura Spencer against Frank E. Spencer.

On the grounds of three years' wilful absence, Jennie Booth has been granted a divorce from her husband, John M. Booth. This action was filed April 2, last.

The divorce case of George S. Hoffee against Mary B. Hoffee has been passed by the court at the costs of the defendant, and judgment rendered accordingly.

Tie Scores Mark Top Cards In Country Club Golf Events

Four 39's In Mixed Foursome; Six Lead In Blind Handicap

Rivals in Four-player Tourney Will Compete Again for Supremacy; Net 82's are Turned in by Half-dozen Leaders in Blind Handicap for W. E. Wells, Jr. Trophy.

Keen competition, productive of exceptional golf from start to finish, marked the opening day program Saturday at the East Liverpool Country club, with the efforts of the contending performers being directed upon three events—the mixed Scotch foursome, the blind handicap tournament and the United States Golf association greens committee play.

A total of 10 tie scores were recorded in the foursome and blind handicap, four in the former and six in the latter. "Thirty-nines" were turned in as net scores by four couples in the two-ball play and cards of 82 were reported by an even half-dozen handicap rivals.

The top cards follow:

Mixed Foursome.

C. A. Bough and Mrs. T. S. Brush—gross 53, net 39.

C. H. Walker and Mrs. J. B. McDonald—gross 54, net 39.

M. W. Thompson and Mrs. A. L. White—gross 54, net 39.

H. J. Taylor and Mrs. J. D. Comstock—gross 54, net 39.

Blind Handicap.

F. B. Lawrence—gross 105, handicap 23, net 82.

J. S. Hilbert—gross 106, handicap 24, net 82.

Dr. Samuel Reich—gross 108, handicap 26, net 82.

J. Rinehart—gross 108, handicap 26, net 82.

W. A. Betz—gross 87, handicap 5, net 82.

Dr. A. C. Frost—gross 92, handicap 12, net 82.

The sports committee, it was announced today, has left the problem of ultimately determining winners in the two events to the contenders themselves.

There will be play-offs in the foursome, it is probable, at dates decided upon by the various groups.

Final rankings in the U. S. G. A. greens committee play are being computed by the sports committee.

DE PAOLO TO BE ALTOONA ENTRY

Indianapolis 500-Mile Winner Seeks More Glory.

ALTOONA, Pa., June 1. — Four of the world's fastest automobiles, piloted by drivers of international renown, have just been added to the entry list of the June 13 classic here at the Altoona speedway by Fred Duesenberg, widely known sportsman and automotive engineer.

Three drivers of the four-car team have been already named. These are Peter DePaolo, winner of the Indianapolis 500-mile race, and the illustrious nephew of the famous Ralph DePalma, Phil Shaffer, one of the most sensational drivers of the roaring road, and Pete Kries, whose rapid climb to the heights of renwon in racing has been one of the remarkable events of the year.

With these three premier pilots selected and announced by the famous sportsman owner of the cars, keen interest has been arounsed in racing circles over the man who will be chosen for the fourth car. The wheel of one of these super-speed mounts is one of the most coveted in motordom as the late Joe Boyer won last year's Indianapolis contest with one of these machine.

Receiving their most rigid test for strength and endurance at the Memorial day classic at Indianapolis, where the speed average will be about 100 miles an hour, the four racing cars will be completely dismantled and overhauled within a few days, then shipped by special express to Altoona ready for the preliminary tuning trials, which will start June 2.

All of the fast entries will pass the qualifying lap tests, conducted by Fred J. Wagner, internationally known starter, at a speed predicted around 130 miles an hour, with the average for the long, 250-mile grind forecast at above 120 miles an hour.

Every inch of the huge mile-and-a-quarter board oval has been rigidly inspected and the special crews of steel workers are rushing the completion of the heavy steel band at the outer rim, required by the A. A. A. contest board as a further precaution to keep wrecked cars from dashing over the top of the steep curves to crash to the ground, 40 feet below.

40,000 FANS SEE BERLENBACH WIN

NEW YORK, June 1. — Unofficial figures made public today showed that upward of 40,000 fans paid approximately $172,655 to see the milk fund bouts, in which Mike McTigue was deprived of the world's light heavyweight title by Paul Berlenbach. According to present calculations, the net proceeds will amount to about $65,000, which will be turned over to the fund.

Tagging The Bases

Dazzy Vance fanned 13 Giants but overlooked Meusel in the sixth and Terry in the ninth, this being extremely ill-advised. Meusel singled home the first run and Terry produced the second with a homer, the Dodgers finished second, 2 to 0. Scott didn't fan them but he wouldn't let them score.

The Tigers' four-run rally in the ninth came too late, the Indians just lasting to the wire to win, 6 to 4.

Making merry with the deliveries of Kremer and Sheehan, the Cubs socked their way to an 11 to 2 decision over the Pirates, Hartnett getting a double, triple and homer, his fourteenth of the season.

The Yanks postponed their daily defeat until the twelfth, but class will tell. The Red Sox finally got to Shawkey for three runs and the decision, 9 to 6.

Manager Harris made a personal matter of putting an end to the Athletics' rampage with a single off Bryan, Harris in the ninth, the Senators winning, 4 to 3. Simmons kept the Athletics in the hunt with a triple and homer.

Robertson, Thurston and Blankenship held the Browns to 23 well scattered hits, but the White Sox lost, 15 to 11. Four homers contributed to the carnage, while Sisler got five hits.

The fans presented Hornsby with floral pieces at his managerial debut and the Cards presented him with a ball game, beating the Reds, 5 to 2, thanks to the excellent pitching of Rhem.

Tigers' Rally Fails.

DETROIT, June 1.—A ninth inning rally that brought in four runs too late to do any good and Detroit bowed to Cleveland, 6 to 4, in the last game of a three-game series. After pitching shut-out ball for eight innings Uhle had to be taken out and Miller got the last two Tigers.

Vance Fans 13 Giants.

BROOKLYN, June 1.—Dazzy Vance struck out 13 Giants and allowed them only five hits, but Brooklyn lost, 2 to 0. In the sixth inning a pass to Young, a passed ball and Meusel's single gave New York a tally that would have won the game, but Terry made victory certain with a home run in the ninth inning.

Red Sox Topple Yanks.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The Red Sox defeated the Yankees, 9 to 6, after a 12-inning battle. Vache's double, Todt's walk and single by Wambsganss and Connolly breaking a deadlock.

Shawkey relieved Ferguson in the box in the third and went along until the twelfth when he weakened. Zahnizer was succeeded by Quinn after the fifth.

Cards Win for Hornsby.

ST. LOUIS, June 1.—Playing their first game under the direction of their new manager, Rogers Hornsby, the Cardinals scored a victory over the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 2, in the first game of the series.

Pirates Get Drubbing.

CHICAGO, June 1.—Chicago batted two Pittsburgh pitchers, Kremer and Sheehan, unmercifully and won, 11 to 2. Hartnett his his 14th home run in the eighth inning, and also hit a double and a triple. Moore's homer with one on accounted for the Pirate tallies.

Sisler Gets Five Hits.

CHICAGO, June 1. — St. Louis defeated Chicago, 15 to 11, in a slugging match pounding out 23 hits for a total of 40 bases. The assault included four home runs, George Sisler leading the attack with five hits including a home run and a triple. C. Robertson and Hollis Thurston were driven off the hill. The Sox hit Wingard hard, also Davis, combing four blows, which included two triples and a double.

Nats Beat Senators.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The Senators defeated the Philadelphia Athletics in a close game, 4 to 3, Bucky Harris driving in the winning run in the ninth inning after the champions had loaded the bases with none out.

The batting of Simmons, Athletic center fielder, who knocked out a home run, featured.

Fans Will See Younger and Cleaner Looking Ruth.

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, June 1.—No longer an ex-brewer about the waistline nor a piano mover at the shoulders, our Mr. Ruth will resume the business of baseball this afternoon after seven weeks in the hospital and seven days on the beach. He will play right field for the Yankees against the champion Senators, and all New York, perforce, will be looking for an exhibition of parlor magic that will transform the Yankees from a rabbit into a rattlesnake.

It probably will not be for Ruth is not the man he will be later in the season. He still is weak and underweight and cannot take the old toe hold at the plate and get away with it. The doctors only acceded to Ruth's demand that he be allowed to play in order to be rid of his querulous pleas for action. His return, in fact, is two weeks ahead of schedule and whether his premature appearance will cause a reaction later remains to be seen.

The fans will see a young and cleaner looking Ruth than has been their privilege for ten years. His succession of illness, culminating in his collapse at Asheville, N. C., on April 7, seemingly has had the effect of improving his general condition merely at the expense of eight weeks absence from the Yankees. Barring further complications, at least several years of activity have been added to Ruth's career as a result of the care and attention he has received.

Many blame the present position of the Yankees—a game and half out of last place—on Ruth's absence; others contend that time, the great leveler, has been the abiding factor, probably it has been a little bit of both.

The Yankees, in any case, are almost definitely out of the race and anything Ruth does for them must be for the better. The writer will be surprised if he hits the size of his collar for a week or more.

He will have one thing in his favor for the first time in years. Ruth will not be shooting at a home run record. He has given up all hope of bettering the mark this season and can approach the plate, fancy free, with nothing on his mind but a sunshade.

Perhaps this will send the great man off to a winning start and he may need one. He will replace Paschal, a man hitting over .400 and comparisons might prove more than odious if Ruth fails to hit them quick and often.

LAY PLANS FOR ANNUAL MEET

County Sportsmen to Frolic at Guilford Park.

At a meeting of the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective association, scheduled to be held in common pleas court No. 2 Monday night, it is proposed to select the date for the annual field meet.

The field meet this year will be held at Guilford state park. The plan of the executive committee of the county organization is to have sportsmen from Summit, Stark and Mahoning counties to join with Columbiana county this year.

15 INJURED IN "TIN CAN" RACE

Accidents Mar $50-Auto Sweepstakes in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, June 1.—Fifteen persons were in hospitals here today, two of them seriously injured as a result of an accident that marred the running of the "what price glory" sweepstakes at the Maple Heights race track. The accident occurred when the driver of "What Price Glory," in whose honor the sweepstakes, limited to automobiles for which the owner willing to accept $50, were run, lost control of his car in the semi-finals, and ploughed into a crowd of spectators. Thirteen were hurt, the most seriously injured being Joseph Andrews, 35, of Cleveland, and James H. Little, 68, of Altoona, Pa.

Two others were hurt as a result of a traffic jam as the thousands of spectators were leaving the track.

Newell Drops Double Bill At Salineville

Afternoon Clash Develops Hurlers Battle Between Bucher and Mays.

Barney Bricelin's Newell Independents were forced to bow twice to defeat Saturday at Salineville. The score of the morning encounter was 10-3, while that of the afternoon was 3-2. Although forced to tackle the Salineville outfit with a patched lineup, the Newellites dished up a pretty good article of baseball, especially in the afternoon fray, which developed into a pitchers' battle betwen Joe Bucher, Newell twirler, and Mays for the Miners. In this game the fans witnessed some fast playing, with both teams registering. Billy Watson, 15-year-old-kid pitcher, who went to the mound for Bricelin, in the forenoon's fracas, performed creditably in holding Salineville to 8 hits and 6 runs, four of the runs being earned off him. After being hit on his pitching hand by a fast ball, Watson was relieved by Bailey, recruit twirler, who permitted 4 runs and 5 hits, and fanned four men in the two innings he worked. Both Bucher and Mays, in their games, performed in masterful style, Bucher fanning 8 and allowing 3 runs and 5 hits, and Mays permitting 2 runs and 6 hits and fanning 10. The box score, however, does not do full justice to Bucher's work, inas much as a home run which scored another man ahead, was registered when Aufderheide, Newell left-fielder, misjudged Marrow's line drive in the second frame, the hit going for the circuit. Aufderheide's and Finley's playing featured the afternoon game.

TROTTERS LOSE FAST CONTEST TO K. T. K. NINE

Stoffel Holds Foes to Six Hits; Score is 4 to 2.

Unable to hit Pitcher Stoffel until the final inning of play Trotters lost to the K. T. K. team in a fast City Industrial league game at Patterson field, 4 to 2, Friday evening.

Stoffel allowed but one bingle until the fifth when R. Pollock opened with a double. In the seventh, however, as dusk fell four safeties and a scarifice fly gave his opponents two runs and prevented their blanking.

Barr started to pitch for Trotter and turned back the potters for two innings without a run. In the third Herbert muffed McShane's fly. The latter stole second. Shaw singled and purloined the keystone corner. Finley walked, filling the bases which were quickly cleared by Simcox, who made a home run to center field, the ball, hard hit, bounding over A. Bayley's head and enabling the swatter to finish handily.

R. Pollock then mounted the hilltop and Barr went to right field. The southpaw allowed but two, a single and a double in the fourth and prevented all scoring thereafter. He used speed, constantly, it being very effective in the growing darkness.

Barr also allowed but two hits, but gave four passes. Stoffel and R. Pollock walked no one.

Both teams played smart ball, the players according fine support, the errors made save in one instance, not being costly.

FILM CLASSIC AT CERAMIC

"Where North Begins" Termed Extraordinary Photoplay.

A pack of wild wolves suddenly appearing in a motion picture camp in northern California spread consternation and caused a stampede recently when screen actors faced the prospect of making a fine meal for the famished animals.

The producing company had gone into the wild Feather River country, in Plumas county, California, a rugged area of snow wilderness and pines, to film scenes for "Where the North Begins," the photoplay starring Rintintin, the clever police dog. This region is rarely visited by man.

The wolves were suddenly discovered stalking around the camp, drawn by the scent of food. The dogs employed to convoy the sleds set up a furious barking, giving warning in time. Pat Hartigan and Walter McGrail, two of the actors, who are crack riflemen, lost no time, and a few well-directed shots cost the lives of the more forward of the pack and dispersed the remainder. The pelts now adorn their studios as mementoes of the pisode.
